High School Dist. 117 recognizes staff, retirees

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The staff of Antioch Community High School (ACHS) gathered May 30 in the cafeteria to recognize the achievements of long-standing staff members and bid farewell to those entering retirement.

Retirees Principal Art Blecke and Physical and Health Education Department Chairman Roger E. Andrews were honored with gifts and good luck speeches from colleagues and school officials.

Andrews closed the book on his 31 years at ACHS with a positive reflection on his experience.

"In the 31 years of teaching here, it's been a real pleasure," he said, "the kids have been pretty much outstanding and fantastic throughout the years and my colleagues—working with them has been a real pleasure. We've had a real strong faculty here."

In praising the efforts and support of his colleagues, he looked back on the highlights of his career.

As head basketball coach for 22 years, Andrews saw a lot of talent on the court.

"I was very fortunate, I had a lot of super kids and a lot of great teams," he said.

Although he was reluctant to single out one team of which he was particularly impressed, he noted the squads of 1965, 1967, 1974, 1978 and 1981.

"It's hard to single out any one," he said, "I had memorable moments with all of them."

The 1981 team rose to glory in the Elite Eight in state competition in Champaign. The 1967 squad racked up 26 victories in 31 matches.

In addition to the highlights from the basketball court, Andrews put his talents to work as golf coach for four years. He accomplished both while running two departments and teaching four classes per day.

"I've never regretted coming to work any day," he added, "there's more to life than disciplinary reports and PE makeup. Life is positive."

After 25 years at his post, Principal Art Blecke also addressed the staff with praise.

"I'm not the expert in all fields, but you are," he said, "I think my job has been to let you do yours."

In return, he was presented with a variety of retirement gifts and gift certificates, by far the most coveted being 2-years worth of free lunches from the school cafeteria. He will be back.

Also retiring are Guidance Counselor Lee O. Miere, William Radtke, Durward McIntire and Janice Betz, as well as Steven Sheedlo, who is leaving the school system.

The following staff members were honored for years of service: William H. Seemann, 35 years; Diane D. Busch, 30 years; Blecke and Norman B. Hahn, 25 years; Barbara A. Ano, James M. Curtis, Jet L. Dee, Teresa A. Estep, Elinor H. Luccas, Suzanne V. Miller, David L. Monke, Bonnie I. Nordstrom, 20 years; Carol A. Boston, Kathleen A. Brown, Richard A. Brown, Jeffrey Dresser, Pat A. Harland, Steven R. Scott, Pat Thamerus, 15 years.

Portable classrooms sized as viable option

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Faced with growing enrollment and no place to put the students, Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 officials are considering leasing two modular classrooms for the 1991-92 school year.

"Rather than disrupt the educational programs that we already have going, we feel the best plan would be to get two temporary classrooms in place," said ACHS Supt. Gary Allen.

The board is expected to make a decision on the issue at their next board meeting, Thursday, June 20.

According to Allen, the school needs a bare minimum of two additional classrooms to accommodate the projected enrollment increase. However, Allen cautions that more space could be required should projections increase throughout the summer.

In addition to the need for classroom space for about 12 or 13 classes per day, school officials are attempting to relieve the deficiency in laboratory space. One option under consideration is the conversion of classroom space into lab space and relocating classrooms to portable units.

Modular classroom space can be leased

at an approximate cost of $600-700 per month per unit.

However, before a lease agreement may be negotiated, the plan must meet the approval of the Regional Superintendent of Schools and, subsequently, the State Board of Education.

To obtain approval, the ACHS board must show that attempts are being made to rectify the space problem with a permanent solution. Approval must be obtained on a yearly basis.

A $29.9 million referendum to construct a new high school was defeated by voters last November. Efforts are being stepped up for the passage of a similar referendum in November.

We'll remember always...

Graduation Day. From pre-schools to high schools to law schools, Lakeland area residents are graduating and moving on with great expectations. Fight decision LONG LAKE--Residents are challenging a recommendation of the land acquisition committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve Commission to dedesignate "Horse Island," a small but strategically located and environmentally sensitive parcel situated at the point where Squaw Creek flows into Long Lake, from public acquisition.

The island, appraised at about $6,000 by the county, is considered worth approximately $400,000 by the owner, Al Barthel, because of its "development potential." The island originally was recommended for public purchase to insure water quality of the recreational lake. The forest preserve reportedly has offered Barthel $10,000 to $15,000 for the island which he bought for less than $3,000 three years ago as a playground for his grandchildren and a pet horse.

Mayor missing

FOX LAKE--Mayor Frank Meier was in Good Shepherd Hospital and unable to vote so a motion on establishing the office of full-time mayor deadlocked before the council and was declared defeated. The motion was offered by Trustee Alberta Meyer whose assertion, "You can't run a billion dollar business part-time" caused more than a little wonderment in the audience. Fox Lake's budget isn't quite that large. Meier suffered a broken wrist last Saturday in a fall while installing a swimming pool. Recurrence of a heart problem as an aftermath kept Meier in the hospital at Barrington where he was resting comfortably at midweek.

Assault charged

ROUND LAKE--Local cabdriver, and Round Lake Beach resident Ron Lewis is facing criminal sexual abuse charges in the alleged assault of three mentally handicapped SEDOL students he drove to their work-study assignments. Lewis was arrested on Thursday May 23, and was released five days later on a $10,000 bond. Lewis denies that any assault took place. "If they were assaulted," he said, "they had sex with somebody else besides me."

Eye lease plan

ANTIOCH--Faced with growing enrollment and no place to put the students, Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 officials are considering leasing two modular classrooms for the 1991-92 school year. The board is expected to make a decision on the issue at their next board meeting, Thursday, June 20.

Bid farewell

ANTIOCH--The staff of Antioch Community High School (ACHS) gathered May 30 in the cafeteria to recognize the achievements of long-standing staff members and bid farewell to those entering retirement. Retirees Principal Art Blecke and Physical and Health Education Department Chairman Roger E. Andrews were honored with gifts and good luck speeches from colleagues and school officials.

$5 million sought

NORTH CHICAGO--Waukegan attorney, Patrick Salvi, Salvi has filed a $5 million claim against the Dept. of Veteran Affairs on behalf of the family of Floyd D. Lewis. Lewis, a Lake Villa resident, died at age 71 at the North Chicago VA Medical Center on Sept. 6, 1989. Salvi's claim includes $4.5 million for wrongful death, and $500,000 for pain and suffering. Lewis was a widower and each of Lewis' eight children is a separate plaintiff in this case. "Five million dollars isn't so much," said Salvi. "This man suffered an agonizing death for almost three weeks because of screw-ups at the VA. They not only killed him, but they negligently tortured him before he died. You only have to go through the record to see that." Salvi estimates that he should receive a response to his claim from the Dept. of Veteran Affairs within six months. Lewis is only one of six deaths at the North Chicago VA Medical Center. Other families, said Salvi, may have filed claims. "I believe," he added, "the amount requested in ours was the biggest."

Great Lakes makes new closing list

NORTH CHICAGO--Great Lakes Naval Training Center has been added to a new list put out by The Base Closure and Realignment Commission as one of 36 military installations slated for possible closing. The news came less than two months after Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney recommended moving 15,000 troops to Great Lakes as part of a scaling back effort.

Sewer on hold

LINDENHURST--Lindenhurst's big flush is on hold unless striking laborers get back on a regular routine. A strike by the Laborers' District Council, affecting Cook, Lake and DuPage Counties, could put completion of the Lindenhurst Wastewater Treatment Facility behind schedule. According to Village Administrator Jim Stevens, the strike which began June 1, has not yet interfered with the beginning of operations at the new plant.

Incumbents win

LIBERTYVILLE--Incumbents were returned to office Saturday by carpenters voting on leadership in Local 250. Financial secretary Paul Rost, business representative incumbents Jon Ward and Ray Geryol were returned to office. Challenging them for three-year terms were Pat Doyle, running for business representative, Larry Kelley, running for secretary and conductor candidate Mark Fuller. Some 351 carpenters voted at Libertyville American Legion Hall.

Best Bavarian cuisine can be found at Fritzel's

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

When Robert Tschurtz came to Chicago from Oetzal, Austria 40 years ago, he brought with him a love and knowledge of the fine foods of the Black Forest.

In fact, after becoming a butcher in Chicago, he started a food business called Black Forest Finer Foods.

After running successful restaurants in the northern suburbs for many years, he came to Lake County five years ago, bringing his knowledge of best in German food with him.

What better place to open an Alpine style restaurant called Fritzel's Country Inn than in burgeoning Lake Zurich?

The outside of Fritzel's matches its name, with a touch of Alpine styling, but the interior decor has today's airy, pastel look.

Tschurtz's two sons, Gary and Rob, following in Dad's footsteps, joined the business and, along with their mother Brigitte, make sure that one of the Tschurtzs is always on hand with a smile and a friendly greeting for customers.

Whatever one's Bavarian druther's, Fritzel's, with the talents of Chef Keith Brandenburg, is able to satisfy it in fine fashion starting with a bowl of Hungarian goulash, jumping to variety of schnitzels and rouladen, roast duck or Kassler ribs(cured pork loin.)

A slice of Black Forest cherry torte and a steaming cup of Rudesheim(creamy coffee made with Rudesheim brandy) top off the perfect meal.

Of course there are many steak and seafood entrees on Fritzel's menu for those who prefer American dining.

Fritzel's has two attractive dining rooms that seat 110, banquet facilities that accommodate up to 150 people and the Hunters' Club upstairs that can handle 40 people at one time.

Fritzel's is open for dinner from 4 to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday; from noon to 9 p.m. on Sunday; with lunch served from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday through Friday. Weekend reservations are recommended.

Painted Lakes Forest Preserve pact is final

Clarion Development, Inc. has completed the sale of 527.7 acres in Lake Villa to the Lake County Forest Preserve District, setting the stage for the low-density residential and commercial development of Painted Lakes to move into high gear. Current plans now call for residential lots to be available by the end of 1992.

The new Sun Lake Forest Preserve includes Sun Lake and its surrounding wetlands. This area received one of the highest ratings ever established for a resource area and includes lakes, streams and woodlands. Specific plans for the new preserve are not finalized, but under consideration are the development of a number of trails, and up to three recreational fields for softball, soccer and other sports. The new preserve is located in Lake Villa, south of Grass Lake road and west of Deep Lake Road.

"Our company is committed to projects which preserve as much open space as possible."

"The projected use of over half our acreage for permanent greenspace and recreational use fits in perfectly with our plans for Painted Lakes." The project now encompasses perfectly with our plans for Painted Lakes," said Daniel Bartok, President of Clarion.

The project now encompasses 315 acres adjacent to the new preserve, northeast of Highways 83 and 132.

Although the original Painted Lakes acreage was zoned for about 2,400 housing units, Bartok said that a maximum of 675 will actually be constructed. In addition to single family homes to be constructed on various-sized lots, Painted Lakes will also include low-density townhomes, as well as 53 acres of commercial development.

"In recent years, the greater Chicago area has seen a large number of high-rise and high-density, multiple-unit developments. We formed Clarion to move in a different direction. We have more of a 'home builder' focus, and so our projects are planned as very high quality single-family and low-density multiple-dwelling communities."

The Painted Lakes development has been the subject of considerable discussion and interest in the Lake Villa area for about eight years. The last few years have seen the forging of a significant working relationship between Clarion, the village of Lake Villa and the Lake County Board. Plans for Painted Lakes also call for Clarion to fund a substantial portion of a new sewer line to serve both current residents of southern Lake Villa and future residents of the development. The company will also donate 22.8 acres to the village for parkland and an additional 80-plus acres for open space.

Clarion, based in Chicago, was founded in 1988. "We are currently developing a low-density townhome project called Wysteria, in south suburban Olympia Fields," stated Bartok. "Wysteria is a good example of the kind of community we strongly believe in."

"Like Painted Lakes, our Wysteria site was originally zoned for considerably more units than we are actually constructing. Although we could have built 225 units on the 22 acres, we're building only 88 townhomes because we believe in the concept of what some might call 'underdevelopment.' That gives us a very good ration of just four units per acre," Bartok said.

"We've planned the rest of the acreage as heavily-landscaped greenspace. In total, we've budgeted over $1 million in landscaping for Wysteria. This is exactly the kind of sensibility we're planning to bring to the considerably larger Painted Lakes project."

ACHS students receive awards from LCAVC

Antioch Community High School students attending the Lake County Area Vocational Center (LCAVC) were honored for their outstanding achievements at a banquet, May 16.

Competition for the LCAVC Top Student Competition was narrowed to seven, including ACHS students, Justin Lindas and Kristina Roman.

And the winner was...Roman. As LCAVC Top Student for 1990-91, Roman receives a $250 LCAVC Child Care Advisory Board Scholarship, a $100 Top Child Care Student Scholarship, four reference books, a $150 scholarship from North Region Chicago Association for the education of Young Children, a $500 LCAVC Top Student Scholarship and four records and a charm from the Lake County Home Economics Association.

Three ACHS students received top honors as Student of the Year in their respective program areas, as follows: Lindas—Building Trades, Roman—Child Care and Charles Stenseth—Industrial Electrical Systems.

Other ACHS students receiving honors were as follows: Erin O'Connell, a $250 scholarship from the LCAVC Child Care Program; Jennifer Holbo, a $500 scholarship from CABAC Cable Access Commercial and LCAVC Media Specialist Promotional Poster winner; and Lindas, the Lake County Contractors' Scholarship.

Annette Montalvo received the following awards: Kelly Services Award for Outstanding Skills in the area of Office Occupations, a $500 scholarship from LCAVC Secretarial Office Occupations Program, and a $900 scholarship from the Antioch Lions Club Vocational Education Scholarship.

Driver claims runaround from police departments

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

An Antioch resident is considering suing the Grayslake Police Dept. after her car was impounded.

"I've gone through hell," Rosa Mazurek said.

Her problems began on May 9 when the Grayslake Police Dept. told her her vehicle, a 1983 Dodge Omni, was stolen out of Chicago.

"Chicago said the only ones who could release the car was Grayslake," Mazurek said. She said she was told on later phone calls that Grayslake police had erred.

"The request to tow and impound the car was from the Chicago Police Dept. Her problem is with Chicago, not us," Grayslake Police Chief Ed Wunderle said.

Wunderle said he has documentation and later confirmed the tow and impoundment request with the Chicago Police Dept.

The car was stored at Wildwood Towing at a charge of $15 a day. Mazurek said she was told the car would be crushed if she did not pay $250 by June 1.

She said the original plans were to settle the matter through small claims court. "Then I was told by attorneys that it is bigger than small claims court—that it is more or less like police brutality," she said.

Fourth of July Parade to honor Persian Gulf vets

The Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. is extending an invitation for everyone to join in the Fourth of July celebration. The year's festivities will be dedicated to the men and women who served in Operation Desert Storm. The theme of the parade is "Operation Homecoming."

Chicago White Sox put on quite a magic show

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Future celebrity

Magician, David Kelly of Antioch, was recently invited by the Chicago White Sox to perform during sponsors weekend in Sarasota, Fla. They flew him down and put him up in a beautiful hotel. Following the game, he performed various "slight-of-hand" magic tricks to a packed audience of sponsors and their families, the players, and managers. David cultivates his love of "slight-of-hand" magic in the Antioch area and neighboring towns by appearing at local restaurants, banquet halls, private parties (such as birthdays), schools, and civic organizations. He presently works part time and performs his magic acts part time. His dream is to become a full-time magician. If you are looking for a special fun attraction at a party, school function, grand opening of a business, civic function or whatever, you can contact Dave at (708)395-7671. Incidentally, Dave was born and raised in the Antioch area. Wouldn't it be exciting to turn on t.v. and see a celebrity from our "Hometown"?!! Good luck to you, Dave, in achieving your dream.

Scholastic recognition

The Grass Lake School junior high awards ceremony/dinner was a huge success. The students, staff and parents gathered at 6 p.m. in the school gym and the first item on the agenda was to partake in a delicious pot-luck dinner. The P.T.O. supplied the main course and parents brought in their favorite side dishes or desserts to pass. The end result was a fantastic feast that would tempt anyone's taste buds. The sports awards were presented first, then came the special subjects of Music and Art, then the academics, and last but not least the announcement of the 1991 graduating class valedictorian and salutatorian awards. Gawrecki's efforts help Indians win 2

No doubt about it, Vince Gawrecki of the Gurnee Indians had a hard act to follow Sunday.

Jim Cooney had just struck out 15 Libertyville batters en route to a 5-1 win in the home opener. Gawrecki decided to add some variety to his stardom, as his defense, hitting and pitching led the Indians to a 2-1 win in the second game.

Gawrecki, an Antioch Community High School graduate, had seven strikeouts, hit a game-winning home run, started a double play and cleanly fielded a bunt.

"That was the most action I've seen defensively," Gawrecki said.

"We just sat back and watched our pitchers do a great job," Indians co-manager Bill Stranowicz said.

The Indians were 3-1 after the sweep of the Libertyville squad, a rookie team in the Shoreline. The Indians are defending Shoreline tourney champs.

The Indians were not at full strength for the doubleheader. Joe Vocke is suffering from an injured wrist and Steve Bruns is competing with Creighton in the College World Series.

Leading the hitting in game one was Bill Stranowicz with a two-run double. The Indians benefitted from 10 Libertyville walks.

In the second game, the Indians scored first as Bill Stranowicz collected an RBI single.

Libertyville tied it at 1-1 in the fourth. Designated hitter John Donakowski had an RBI single.

Gawrecki then slammed the first pitch over the left-field fence at Faulkner Field for a home run. "It was an outside curveball," Gawrecki said.

The Indians had split the season opening doubleheader with Skokie, winning 4-1 behind Steve Jarrell but losing 5-4.

The loss dropped Libertyville to an 0-3 start. Despite the defeat, manager Tim Dosa remains confident. "I'm confident we can be a .500 team," he said.

The Indians face a key early-season test with a doubleheader at Zion-Benton High School against the rival Dill Brothers June 9. Game time is 1 p.m. Libertyville is at Deerfield 1 p.m. June 8 and at Zion June 11 at 1 p.m.

Prevention progress cheered, yet, long road ahead

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

DARE, Snowball, Snowflake, Fighting Back, Choices—all are programs that have and continue to touch communities in Lake County which is recognized as a leader in drug prevention partnerships. News and photos of the various prevention programs have graced the local papers and although the programs are far-reaching, there are still people out there who are not being reached.

"The drug problem is still a very serious issue, it's still growing, it's still profitable. It's still a problem that affects us from grade school to senior citizens," said Ed Ravin, assistant director of the mental health division at the Lake County Dept. of Health.

Ravin addressed a crowd gathered for the Lake County InTouch appreciation breakfast held at the Meadows Restaurant in Libertyville and sponsored by NICASA (Northern Illinois Council on Substance and Alcohol Abuse), the Dept. of Health and the College of Lake County. Those in attendance represented various aspects of prevention from prevention specialists to public defenders to students.

It was an informal gathering, providing a time and place for a variety of individuals involved in prevention to touch base, to network, to talk about progress and future plans.

Ravin reminisced about the progress made in the 15 years he's been involved. He said the field has grown from a "handful of providers" to a group of 19 prevention specialists between the two agencies. "We have come a long way in 15 years. I've seen a lot of jobs funded and a lot of activities take place," he said.

Ravin noted that between birth and graduation, a child will have been exposed to a number of prevention programs. "When they get to be my son's age (14), they feel empowered to make a decision. Yet there are a lot of kids that have still not been reached...I applaud where we are and where we've come, but I still champion the fact that we have a long way to go."

Both Ravin and Judy Fried, executive director of NICASA applauded the partnership that has developed between various groups involved in prevention. "We're really going to be able to make a difference," said Fried.

In Touch

Joyce Millman, director of special prevention projects, left, and Ginny Fagen, coordinator of the ABC Council of the Lake County Dept. of Health, converse about prevention projects including the Fighting Back Project. Millman and Fagen were two of many individuals involved in prevention who were appreciated at a breakfast held at the Meadows Restaurant.

TVWeek to arrive at Lakeland in 3 weeks

What's on the "tube" tonight? The answer to that question will soon be as near as a local Lakeland Newspaper. Starting June 28, all 14 Lakeland Newspapers will carry TVWeek, a listing of television programs.

"The main reason we decided to start TVWeek was because subscribers requested it," said Joann Ritzwoller, account executive for TVWeek.

TVWeek will have listings that run from Friday to Thursday. It will include 20 channel listings that run for 18 hours, 7 a.m. to 1 a.m., and a cable conversion chart for TCI, USCable and Jones Intercable. Other extras include star spotlights, a sports calendar and a variety of features.

"We think it's going to be a big reader service," said Publisher William H. Schroeder. "It's coming out on Friday so readers can plan their tv viewing weekend and week. We hope it's well received."

Western graduates

More than 1,600 Western Illinois Univ. students were recognized for completion of their degree requirements at the spring commencement exercises. Graduates from the Lakeland area are:

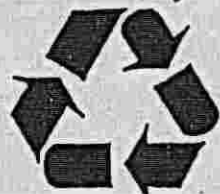

Patrick Doyle of Antioch; Sarah Bagan of Buffalo Grove; Marcus Templar of Fox Lake; Amy Kirchherr and Sean Mason of Grayslake; Daniel Leskovec, Christopher Pallas, Angela Quednau, Jeff Ross, and Warren Tochor of Gurnee.

Carter Brett of Hawthorn Woods; Stephen Darby and Christine Parry of Ingleside. Matthew Diener, Scott Sturm, Jennifer Workman of Lake Zurich. John Beckius of Libertyville. Jennifer Rider and Donald Weidner of Long Grove. Peggy Bellinder, Michelle Defrank, Scott Padilla, James Swab of Mundelein.

LaSaundra Hudson, John Kovacevic, Valerie Nicholas of North Chicago. C.J. Scharfenorth of Round Lake; Kurt Horcher of Vernon Hills; Dawn Wetzstein, Kimberly Kozlowski and Kimberly Mueller of McHenry.

HEEL PAIN

Almost everyone suffers from pain in the heel at one time or another.

Heel spur syndrome is a common cause of heel pain. If you experience a sharp, shooting type pain or a dull aching bruised sensation in your heel when you first put weight on your heel in the morning or after prolonged sitting, you may be suffering from heel spur syndrome.

This condition consists of two components — inflammation of the plantar fascia, the ligament, that runs along the bottom surface of the foot from the ball to the heel and an actual spur which is a bony projection on the bottom of the heel.

Not all heel spurs hurt; it is the inflammation of the structures that causes the pain, and thus, treatment is aimed at reducing the stress on the foot and decreasing the inflammation. Treatment for heel spur syndrome usually involves rest, a series of steroid injections, anti-inflammatory oral medication, physical therapy, and orthotics (custom made arch supports) which relieve stress on the plantar fascia.

Persistent heel spurs are treated, however, surgically by removing the bony spur and releasing the plantar fascia. If you are suffering from this condition, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO-COST CONSULTATION to discuss your condition and treatment options.

Home rule appetite

Facing a $500,000 budgetary shortfall, Buffalo Grove trustees quickly approved the new home-rule sales tax of one-half of one percent intended to cover fund shortages in the event of a loss of the state income tax surcharge due to expire June 30.

Acting to beat a state deadline requiring home-rule ordinances to be filed by June 1 if a municipality is to receive revenues in the current budget year, Buffalo Grove officials unintentionally underscored the tax appetite of home-rule communities.

The Illinois Constitution grants much broader taxing power to home-rule municipalities. Local officials are loathe to focus on the free-wheeling taxation opportunities under home rule, preferring to dwell on the legislative authority to "better address" public needs and "better serve" taxpayers. The fact remains, though, that home rule is an invitation to greater taxation. Buffalo Grove proves that.

It also is interesting to note that even with the home-rule sales tax tucked away if needed, Buffalo Grove trustees are considering other revenue alternatives such as a utility tax or real estate transfer tax. A rapidly growing community never seems to have enough tax dollars, it seems. There's another message here. We think it has something to do with the theory that development doesn't pay its own way.

Down, but not out—more 'river gambling'

by JOHN S. MATIJEVICH
State Representative

It appears that extending riverboat gambling to Lake Michigan will not happen for now. Of course, I knew that when I filed amendments to "riverboat bills," but I thought that raising the issue now will hasten the time when "casino boats" will come to Lake Michigan.

My amendment would have limited the floating casino boats to the Lake County part of Lake Michigan. I did that because it was apparent that Chicago Mayor Richard M. Daley was opposed to allowing it when riverboat gambling passed two years ago. Evidently, he hasn't changed his position.

Riverboat gambling was passed, not so much for the revenue that it would produce for the state, but as a tourism and economic development boon. With Iowa beating us to the punch, it was hurried through to allow Illinois to compete for the riverboat tourism dollars along the Mississippi River. Other areas that could benefit are Peoria, along the Illinois River, and Joliet, by the Des Plaines River. So far, Alton seems to be the first to ready itself for riverboat gambling in Illinois, scheduled to open in July. The Quad-Cities side of Illinois should be next.

My position is that if riverboat gambling is good for tourism in other parts of Illinois, then casino gambling on Lake Michigan can boost tourism in northeastern Illinois, too. North Chicago Mayor Bobby Thompson has expressed an interest in it, and I received a letter from Winthrop Harbor Mayor Robert Marabella indicating his support. Some Waukegan public officials have also expressed an interest.

Last week, a House bill on riverboat gambling was "sailing along" when it came to the amendment stage. In addition to providing for open meetings for the gaming board, a controversial provision allowed riverboat gambling players to have a limited line of credit.

The Republicans filed many "nuisance amendments" which the sponsor called frivolous. He used a parliamentary maneuver to "shoot down" those amendments, but in the process my amendment to allow floating casino gambling on Lake Michigan was erased, too. What he did was accept all of the amendments, including mine, and then adopted a last amendment to do what he wanted, but none of what the prior amendments did.

Of course, I took issue with it because the sponsor had committed to me that he would accept my "Lake Michigan" amendment even though the likelihood was that the Senate would remove it. I told him that I was prepared for that eventually.

The next day, the House heard another riverboat gambling bill sponsored by my seatmate Rep. E.J. "Zeke" Giorgi. It's what we call a "vehicle bill," or a bill that doesn't do anything, but one that is amended later in the session to do what its sponsors or proponents seek to do. My amendment was on that bill, too, so I had a test vote. To no one's surprise, certainly not mine, the amendment to allow gambling on Lake Michigan in Lake County failed by 10 votes. The showing was more than predicted.

Gambling 'benefits'

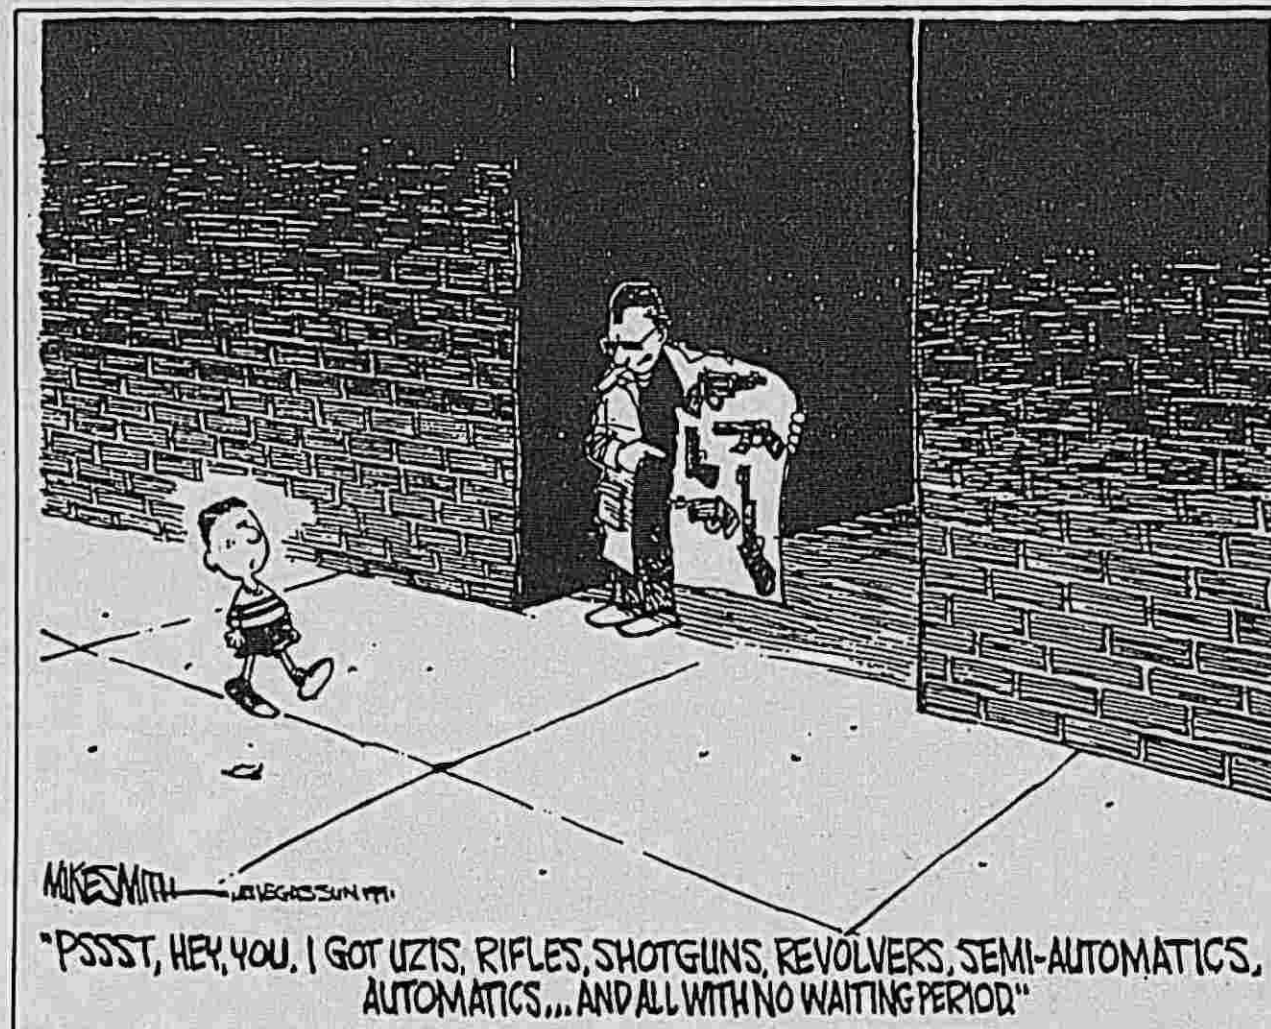

If riverboat gambling doesn't have any greater impact on promoting tourism than the Illinois Lottery had on easing the burden of public school funding, the whole debate about adding to the state's legal gambling offerings is much ado about nothing.

As State Rep. John Matijevich writes elsewhere this week in our editorial section about expansion of riverboat gambling or legalizing "casino boats," it's probably safe to predict that there will be more forms of gambling in the future, not less.

There is tremendous pressure on legislators to "open up" on gambling. When the lottery was being argued, education funding was the justification. Now tourism is the justification for cluttering up the waterways with floating crap tables. Will there ever be an end? Probably not, not as long as the public enjoys being fleeced under the guise of some noble purpose.

Remember that para-mutual betting on horse racing benefits county fairs, agriculture and "improving the breed." It's all a little silly. Gambling helps those who run the gambling systems. Period.

State Rep. Virginia Frederick of the Lake County legislative delegation considers the riverboat gambling bill a "losing bet for Illinois...young people and compulsive gamblers are the chips." Frederick is critical of a provision which allows community colleges to teach classes on dealing cards and repairing electronic gambling machines. We agree with Frederick that community colleges should teach courses more useful than Blackjack 101.

Viewpoint

Home resale more valued than safety

by BILL SCHROEDER

Safety takes a back seat to property values in the high rent districts.

That's the way it appears in Canterbury Circle Subdivision, Libertyville, where residents are putting up a fuss about a newly installed tornado-warning siren. The siren will downgrade property values, they say.

Not too long ago, residents of Green Oaks beefed for the same reason when a neighborhood in their community was considered for the site of a new fire station. Lincolnshire residents became up in arms for the same reason a few years ago. They insisted the construction of a new fire station would turn their neighborhood in a near slum.

What gives? I thought people were attracted to upscale communities for the first rate services they receive. Safety ought to be one of them.

Libertyville Mayor Jo Ann Eckmann is taking the diplomatic route by calling for a study by the village board to see if the estimated cost of $3,500 to move the siren will be worth it. I wouldn't bet against the complainers getting their way.

I guess we're living in another era where money and privacy are more important than public safety. I'm old enough to remember when everyone was interested in what was happening when the fire siren sounded. Or how about the folks who can remember a time when the fire station was the best looking building in the neighborhood?

Apparently now a lot of people are irritated by sirens. "Rats. There goes that pesty siren again. Probably just a tornado coming or someone's house burning down."

Letters to the Editor

Question board ethics

Editor:

It is with sadness and anger that I sit down to write this letter. It appears that the "Representative" form of government has truly disappeared.

Last year the School Dist. 116 Board voted to issue bonds and it was defeated at the polls after a petition drive was conducted. Now, the school board is going to issue bonds again, for $4 million. What is happening? We the taxpayers voted against a $3.2 million referendum last month (April), and here we are, faced with a tax increase anyway.

Why elect a school board if the members are not going to take into consideration the desires of the taxpayers in that district? I feel that the school district is in need of funds. Without a strong, solid school system business and industry will not locate into the area, people will not move here, and thus we all suffer, student and homeowner alike. But, there seems to be a general lack of ethics in the action of the school board. We the people have spoken (by ballot) so it is now up to the board members to come up with additional proposals, and not try to get money by issuing funding bonds almost behind the backs of the citizens.

I also take exception to a statement made by one of the teachers. "I would certainly do whatever I can for the district. That's my number one loyalty." What about the loyalty to the taxpayers of the district who pay your salary? Don't we deserve some loyalty also? You don't

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspaper

COURTHOUSE GOSSIP—One-time County Board chairman and Avon Twp. supervisor Norman Geary confirmed he and his wife of 39 years are getting a divorce.

Voters retired Geary as supervisor two years ago and he declined to seek a return to the County Board.

He gave few reasons for the break-up, admitting "someone else is involved."

Robert Depke, who is now County Board chairman, said it is to marry former Avon Twp. Clerk Virginia Harrington. She was in office 16-plus years at the same time Geary was supervisor for 26 years.

Harrington is a one-time North Shore model. Her other claim to fame is that she is a high school classmate of Vice President Dan Quayle's father.

Geary was once the most influential man in Lake County.

That's the gossip making the rounds in the courthouse this week.

NO POLITICS—There is a new headquarters of the Lake County Republican Federation. And for the first time in 30 years it is not Waukegan.

The new address as of June 1 is 332 Peterson Rd. in a shopping center next to the secretary of state's Driver License examining center in Libertyville.

This location is more central, has plenty of parking and is spacious.

The landlord is none other than Jack Martin of the nearby Libertyville Saddle Shop. Martin, who has gained notoriety for financing select political candidates, said politics is not involved in this instance. "I guess my price was lower than others," he said of the long-term lease.

DIRTY DEAL?—Depending upon who you talk to, County Board Chairman Robert Depke did fellow board member Robert Neal, dirty or a tremendous favor in redistricting.

The new County Board map has Neal, of Newport Twp., in one of the new single member districts with another County Board incumbent, Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan.

Neal supposedly lobbied at the last minute to get his district changed. The one-time county Republican Party chairman would have a hard time getting elected dog catcher in his district, say those who know. Rostron is a fair vote getter in Waukegan.

Why did Depke do this? Supposedly to repay Neal for "stealing" an appointment to the Illinois Tollway Authority that Depke thought belonged to his wife, Georgann. That job was to have been payment for her chairing one of Bill Thompson's gubernatorial campaigns in Lake County.

Another story is the "dump Neal" strategy had some encouragement from Forest Preserve Dist. President Andrea Moore of Libertyville. Other than old-fashioned politics, God only knows what that's about.

The other story is that Neal has been placated. He has been supposedly promised one of the new state representative seats for Lake County. The map creating this job is still in Springfield. Trouble is, people like powerful Democrat Mike Madigan are drawing the lines, not the Republicans.

PRE-FOURTH FIREWORKS—This year's Fourth of July parade in Round Lake, won't be like those of past years.

The event has been taken over by T.R.O.P.S (The Round Lake Organization of People Support), a support group for families of those who served in the Persian Gulf War. It is emphasizing President Bush's declaration of the Fourth as a day to honor all veterans.

Charlene Beyer, former Round Lake Park trustee, is masterminding plans. She wants the parade to end at Hart Park for a day of family activities.

Al Wysocki, Round Lake Park village attorney and members of the former parade sponsor, the Avon Twp. Youth Baseball Assn., feel it should end at the ball fields for a day of games. The resulting hot dog and soft drink sales to the large crowd that traditionally attends is the big money maker of the year.

The pre-Fourth fireworks are minor compared to those planned for the day itself.

IRATE should disclose

Editor:

Most people share the frustration of the Individuals for Responsible and Accountable Tax Equity (IRATE), over the ever soaring property tax bill. Frustration which stems from 50 years of promotion by self serving interests that more development and bigger tax base means lower tax bills. It wasn't true 50 years ago and it isn't true now, bigger was never cheaper.

The public cannot be held completely blameless for they want to believe every charlatan who tells them he can cut taxes and reduce traffic congestion while promoting more costly development. There is a fast emerging school of thought taking root in many urbanizing areas that every thousand new residents generate the need for one million dollars more in new taxes. Certainly the Lake County tax bills can attest to that.

It is difficult to understand how co-chairman and I suspect the financial angel for IRATE, Jack Martin, believes he can masquerade as a tax reformer when he has promoted run-away development in his appointed role on the Libertyville Plan Commission. It seems he is using the well-meaning members of IRATE to promote his own political agenda.

After reading the first three IRATE newsletters, it appears to be anything but a non-political publication. In my judgement IRATE requires campaign disclosure filling in the County Clerk's office, which has not been done to date.

It said in a recent newspaper article Martin believes School Dist. 70 should hold its tax levy increase down to the inflation factor to five percent. The article also stated Dist. 70 taxes have gone up to 105 percent in the last 10 years. Martin's insistence on a five percent cap is the height of hypocrisy, when Martin himself has increased the State's expenditure for rent for the Driver's License Facility in his shopping center a whopping 123 percent since 1986. According to my research, the $14.70 per square foot he charges the State is almost $4 per square foot higher than any other comparable rent in the area.

Hopefully School Dist. 70 never finds it necessary to rent space from Mr. Martin.

Gambling

The truth is that those who advocate gambling on the Mississippi, Illinois, and Des Plaines Rivers in Illinois see gambling on Lake Michigan as competition for the tourism gambling dollars. They want to get "their feet on the ground," or should I say "water," before extending casino gambling somewhere else. I can understand that.

But, as I said on the House Floor, it is a matter of time an casino gambling will come to Lake Michigan, and probably the Chain O'Lakes, too. The chances of its success as a tourism tool are probably greater than that of riverboat gambling.

So, I made the point, with emphasis. No one expected riverboat gambling on Lake Michigan "to float" this session. It will be revived, though, to see another day.

Editor's note: John Matijevich, a Democrat who represents a Waukegan/North Chicago district, writes regularly for Lakeland Newspapers.

Coast Guard gives courtesy exam

On Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9, the U.S. Coast Guard Flotilla 3-5 will be having a "CME Blitz" at the Waukegan Harbor launch ramps in conjunction with Safe Boating Week. The "CME (Courtesy Marine Exam) Blitz" will be a chance for boaters to have their boats safety-inspected for free by Coast Guard certified examiners.

This valuable free inspection can give boaters a chance to become more knowledgeable about their own craft; ask questions regarding water safety and 1991 regulations, and hopefully troubleshoot potential safety problems before they occur.

For further information, call Coast Guard Auxiliary Waukegan Radio any weekend at (708)336-4870, or else stop down by the Coast Guard trailer located next to the Waukegan Harbor launch ramps.

Notes translate into housework harmony

by GREG MILLER

Lakeland Newspapers

You've had a hard day at the office, and the last thing you want to deal with is housework.

But it's OK, because the people at the cleaning service said they'd send over someone to take care of those unpopular domestic tasks, and you left specific instructions on just what needed to be done.

At workday's end, you arrive home to find the dishes vacuumed, the windows mopped, the beds dusted, the dog waxed and buffed — and the kids all neatly pressed, folded and stacked in the back yard.

What we have here is a failure to communicate.

The above scenario may be far-fetched, but for the growing number of people who use either regular or occasional cleaning help in their homes communication can be real problem. That's because many of the people doing the cleaning don't speak English.

If your toughest task at home is getting exact instructions across to your housekeeper, Connie Donovan may have found the solution.

Connie Donovan

Donovan has created CleanIt™ Notes, a sticker book that includes 29 of the most common household cleaning instructions. Each set of reusable, illustrated instructions comes in English, Polish and Spanish.

"Now you don't have to worry about leaving your home in the hands of someone who doesn't understand a word you say," Donovan said.

Like many many professional women — and men — there just aren't enough hours in the day to work, parent and straighten up the house.

Donovan, the assistant principal at St. Edward High School in Elgin, has to juggle time between her demanding job and maintaining a Long Grove home for her family of four.

"The well-documented increase in two-income families means more households are contracting for cleaning help — either on a regular basis or at some point during the year," Donovan said. "A lot of women who don't make that much money put a high priority on someone else doing the cleaning. They have to have time for other things and they're willing to pay for that."

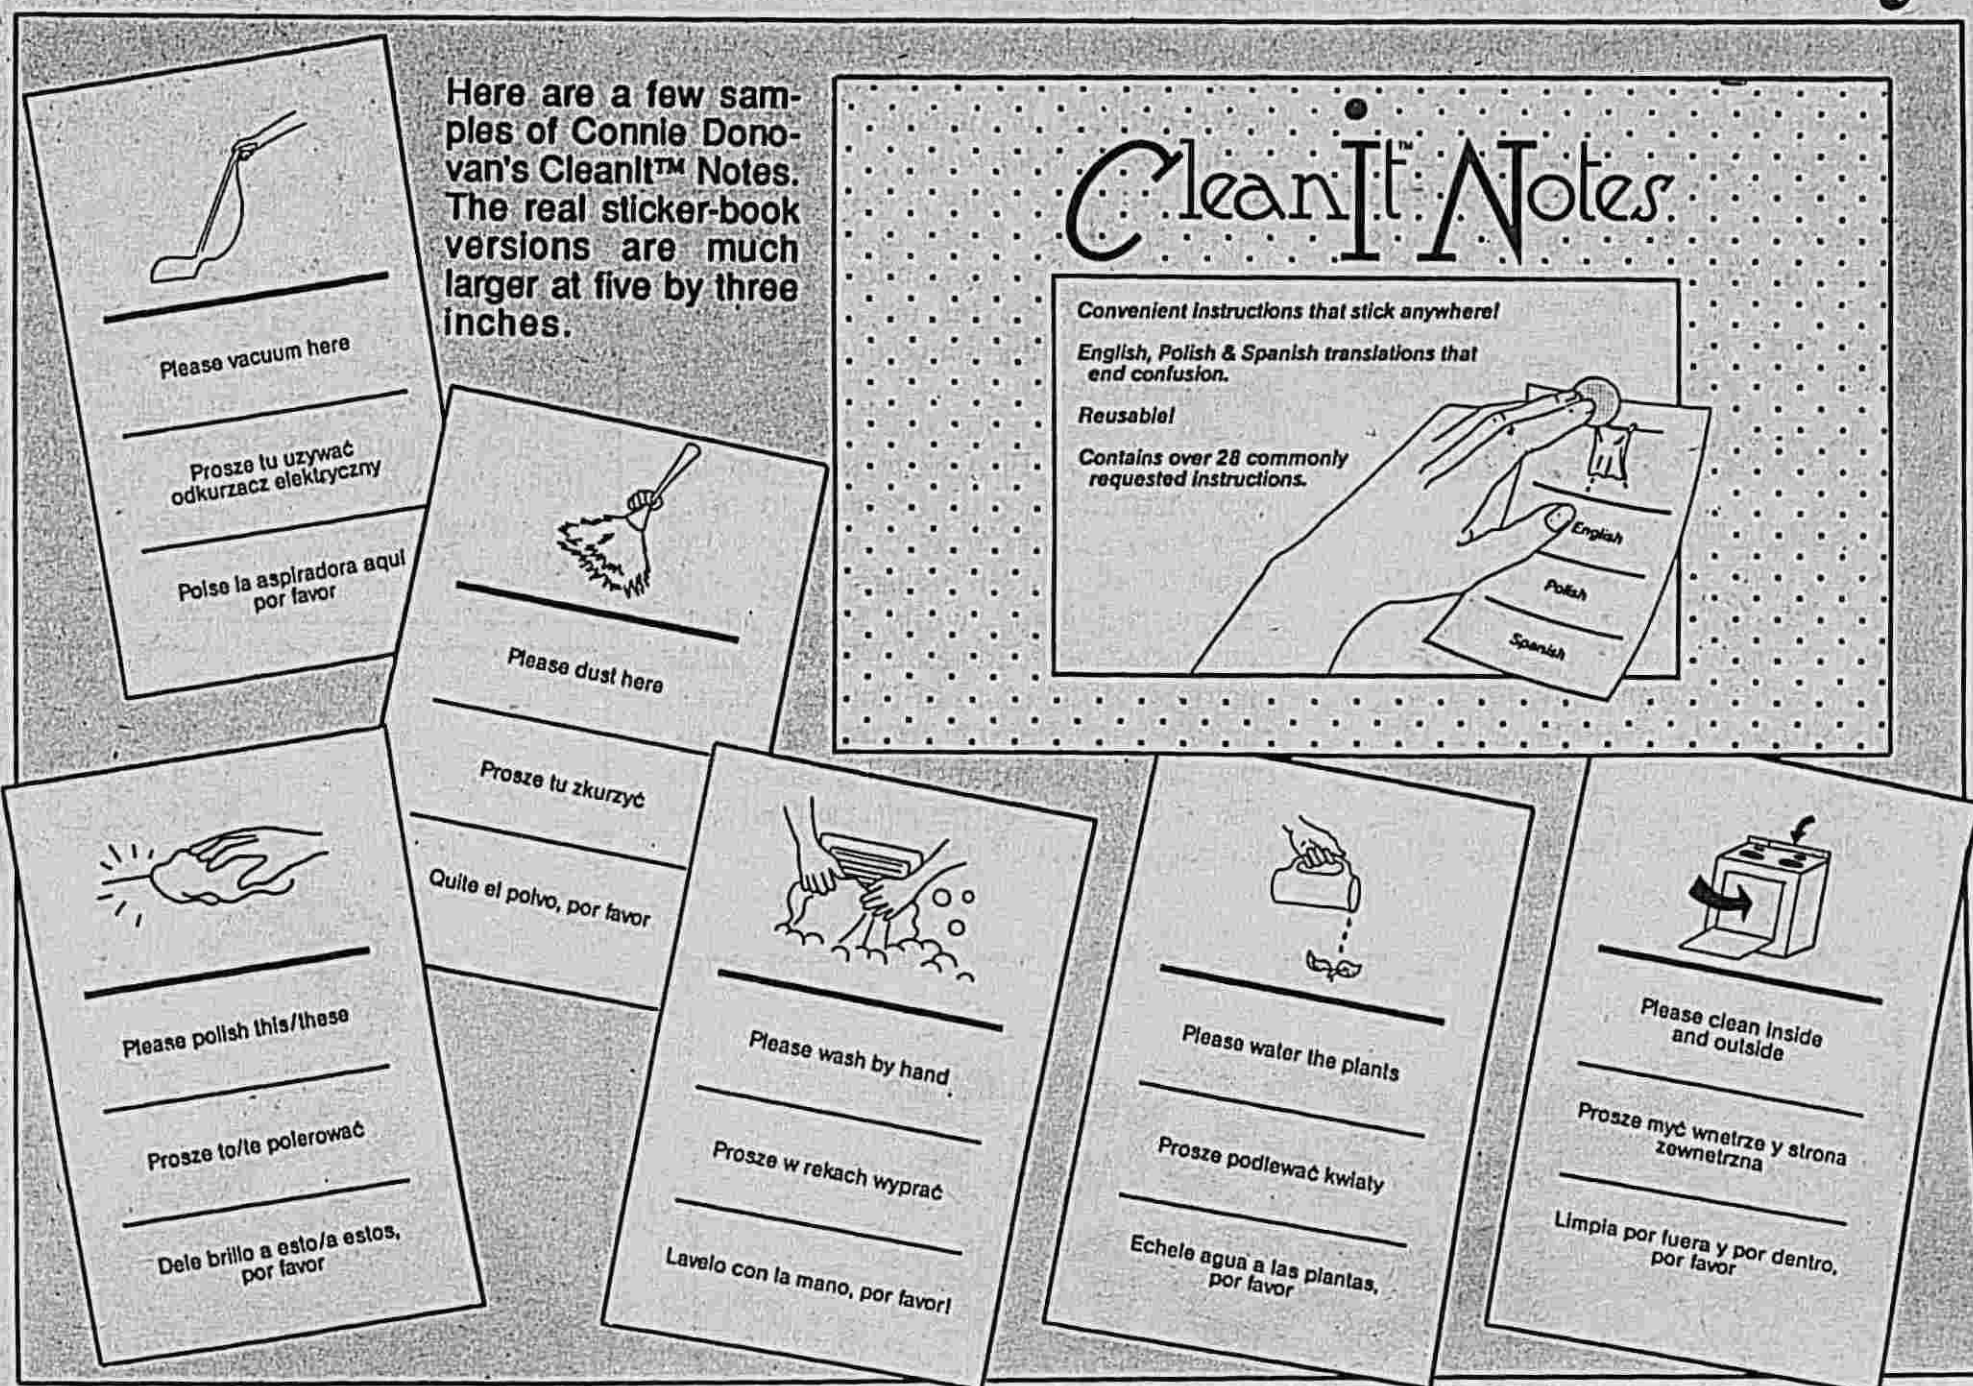

On occasion, Donovan uses the help of a Polish cleaning service, whose personnel don't speak English.

"When your housekeeper doesn't speak your language, it's difficult to convey directions," she said. "The problem is magnified when no one is there to supervise the cleaning process."

"For instance, if you want them to do something on a regular basis, that's OK. But if you want them to do something different . . . ?"

Donovan got the idea for CleanIt™ Notes about three years ago. She'd been Here are a few samples of Connie Donovan's CleanIt™ Notes. The real sticker-book versions are much larger at five by three inches.

drawing little pictures — like a stick figure in front of an ironing board — to help the cleaning people.

Her idea finally became a reality just two weeks ago, when CleanIt™ Notes hit the market place.

Right now, the book is available only by mail, except for a test market at Gift Chalet in Long Grove.

"I didn't have time to work on it, but then I decided to go for it," she said. "It had been in the back of my mind for a long time — I couldn't get rid of it. I've gotten a lot of encouragement to do this."

"It's a risky thing like with any new product. I used all my own capital."

Although Donovan knows the English language fairly well after teaching it for 18 years, she had to enlist the expertise of two good friends for the Polish and Spanish.

Eileen Whalen — a Spanish teacher — provided her knowledge, while Irene Komorowski — an attorney — chipped in with the Polish prose.

Donovan emphasized that even if your housekeeper does speak English, the stickers will be good reminders if you're not home while the work is being done.

If your housekeeper doesn't understand the local lingo, the results can be humorous, if not disastrous.

"In one case, a friend of mine reported that her cleaning person — who couldn't read or write English — used liquid dishwashing detergent in the automatic dishwasher," Donovan said. "My friend returned home to find a tearful housekeeper frantically mopping up soap suds that were up to her knees."

"The book addresses this common problem by including basic instructions about cleaning products and their use."

"You can leave for work and not worry about it."

Donovan said there's a proliferation of agencies employing foreign-born personnel.

"Every week I get a flyer in the mail about a new cleaning service that employs people who speak Polish or Spanish."

Now, Donovan is working on the same kind of project for people in charge of office cleaning. She hopes to have CleanIt™ Office Notes ready in July.

If her first two books are successful, Donovan is considering another book for landscapers, many of whom employ Spanish speakers.

"If there's a market for it — apparently there is, but I don't know if it will go over yet."

The bottom line for Donovan, however, is what CleanIt™ Notes have done at her house.

"I'm never there when she (the housekeeper) is there," Donovan said. "Sometimes, I want special things done."

"It makes my life easier — that's why I did it."

If you can't make it into the Gift Chalet in Long Grove, you can order CleanIt™ Notes by sending a check or money order for $12.95 (made out to Stico Management Services Inc.) to 570 Oakwood Rd., Lake Zurich 60047. Or, call (708) 438-0880 for more information.

Business as usual during acquisition of First Federal Customers aren't expected to notice the difference when First Federal Bank, FSB in Waukegan, is acquired by the Northern States Financial Corporation, the bank holding company for Bank of Waukegan and Northern States Trust Company.

First Federal will continue with business as usual, customer's accounts and loans will not be affected. The board of directors and employees at First Federal will remain the same.

The acquisition was first announced last June. Last month, the Office of Thrift Supervision approved the application submitted by First Federal to convert from a federally chartered mutual savings bank to a federally chartered stock savings bank.

Northern States is currently offering for sale approximately 100,000 shares of its common stock at a subscription price of $41.60 per share to customers of First Federal, its current shareholders and the general public.

Although bank acquisitions are quite common in recent years, the acquisition of First Federal is unusual in that the savings bank is a healthy institution. In a press release, James Hollensteiner, chairman of the board at First Federal stated, "Very few transactions have been consummated, as far as I know, that involve a healthy bank and a healthy savings institution."

An advantage for both the Bank of Waukegan and First Federal is that the two institutions will be able to offer customers a wider array of services. The Bank of Waukegan deals mostly with commercial loans, while First Federal concentrates on home loans. Fred Abdula, chairman of the board of Northern States, stated, "By joining forces, our bank customers and our thrift customers can take advantage of the products and services that each institution offers."

ABWA awards scholarships

The total of scholarships this evening will be $14,800. The meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. on June 12 at the Ramada Inn, 200 N. Green Bay Rd.

... Your own garden by randee rian Make easy to grow moss covered terrariums

You have probably seen moss growing on trees in the forest, but have you ever seen it growing indoors? It is possible to have moss indoors, if you give it special conditions.

Mosses grow all over the world, from the arctic to the tropics. All mosses lack roots and true stems, and the leaves have no veins. These unusual plants grow from spores (rather than seeds). When a spore carried by wind lands in a place with sufficient moisture and the right conditions, the plant starts to grow. You can use these tiny, tiny plants to make unusual gardens.

If you want to grow moss, it is best to grow it in a terrarium, which is a closed glass container. You can use an old aquarium and put a piece of glass on top of it, or you can buy one of the commercial-type terrariums. A big brandy glass, a glass pie plate with a plastic lid, or a big glass jar can also be used. You cannot buy mosses from suppliers; you must start your own. Here is how to do it.

Look for natural moss on stones or wood or in soil, in shady and moist outdoor places. Cut shallow squares (you do not need much), and bring it home and dry it between newspapers or cardboard. After the squares are dry, crumble away the old soil from the green moss itself. Now you have "the starter" for your own mosses.

Place "the starter" in a glass container filled with equal parts of soil and peat (sold at nurseries). Or use an aluminum baking dish. Put a layer of cheesecloth over the soil, and sprinkle the dried starter on top of the cheesecloth. Cover the starter with another layer of cheesecloth, and then water thoroughly with a mister. Keep the cheesecloth always moist to the touch, and be sure to keep the tray in a warm, shady place. In about six to eight weeks, growth should start. A few weeks after growth starts, you can slice the moss as you would a cake. Place the cut wedges on stones or soil in a terrarium. You can create a beautiful miniature landscape by using moss and a few houseplants. Keep the terrarium out of the sun, and sit back and enjoy your moss garden. The terrarium waters itself's moisture collects on the inside of the glass and runs down into the soil.

The sweet taste of homegrown carrots

Carrots are a big favorite. Bright-orange carrots with their clean, smooth skin and perfect long tapers are common sights in the grocery store. They're nice enough, but often lack what's most important, a sweet flavor, the kind that's found only in homegrown carrots.

The ones sold in supermarkets are chosen for uniformity, good storage, disease resistance, and other factors that make growing and handling easier. But in home gardens, these things aren't as critical, so seed companies can concentrate on delivering flavor, a sweet, full flavor that makes carrots bought at the grocery store seem bland by comparison.

Your success with carrots really starts when you buy the seeds. Yet, choosing the right carrot isn't always as simple as it seems. A sweet sounding selection described in a catalog may or may not produce a carrot that suits your taste. It's best to try several selections and then decide.

The best suited for heavy soils are short and ball-shaped types. Because they don't grow too deeply into the soil, they adapt well to clay soils. After deciding which types to plant, label them carefully so you can identify them at the end of the season.

Carrots will grow in spring, but fall's cool weather improves their flavor. You can plant seeds now for a fall harvest; in spring, sow seeds about six weeks before the last frost.

Treat the tiny seeds tenderly. The trick is to plant the fragile seeds deep enough so that they won't dry out, yet shallow enough so they can easily break through the soil. Water daily to keep the seedbed moist; if the seeds dry out even once, they won't come up.

Carrot seeds germinate slowly and sporadically, but all should sprout within three weeks. If you don't see any signs of the seedlings by then, sow again. It's time to thin the seedlings when they are about an inch tall. It's less disturbing to their roots if you simply cut off extras at the soil line with small scissors.

Be sure to keep the tiny seedlings weeded because they can't compete with big, faster growing weeds.

You can harvest carrots at any size big enough to eat, but mature roots are the sweetest. Young carrots haven't stored enough sugar in their roots to give them a good flavor; in fact, some may even taste bitter. Fall carrots are especially nice because you can leave them in the ground until you're ready to eat them.

LAWN AERATOR

The properly spaced tines dig thousands of small wells in the lawn which allow fertilizer, water and chemicals to penetrate the root area. Save time and money. Rent it.

Ducks Unlimited's single purpose, a benefit to all

Be kind to your friends in the swamp, for a duck not only could be somebody's mother, but its wetland home is a vital nurturer of the environment. Enhancement of these wetlands is the "singleness of purpose" billed by Ducks Unlimited Inc. (DU), the largest private sector waterfowl conservation organization in the world.

"Too many people don't appreciate how important the wetlands are," said DU Group Communications Manager Charlotte Rush, "wetlands are every bit as important as the rainforests."

Swamp or marsh lands, long-reputed to be worthless, are actually a priceless commodity in terms of the welfare of the environment.

"We have a heritage of thinking of wet places as something that's in the way of progress," said Rush, "there are ways to have progress continue without draining all the wetlands."

In addition to providing a habitat for a variety of wildlife, including waterfowl and endangered species, the wetlands and wetland plant-life improve water quality, absorb floodwaters and recharge groundwater supplies.

Water purification can be facilitated through the elaborate root system of the the wetland plants. The network serves to filter out impurities in both the surface water and in the water table.

The plants possess a sponge-like quality which aids in the absorption of floodwaters, thus limiting damage to property.

In addition to absorption of water, the plants take in gases such as carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide, while emitting oxygen, a breath of fresh air for the environment.

However, drought, development and agriculture have put these benefits at a premium and threatened the existence of North American waterfowl.

Over the past 200 years, the amount of wetland acreage in the continuous United States has been cut in half. According to 'Too many people don't appreciate how important the wetlands are. Wetlands are every bit as important as the rainforests,'—Ducks Unlimited Group, Communications Mgr. Charlotte Rush.

United States Fish and Wildlife Service estimates, more than 200 million acres of wetlands existed in the late 1700's. By 1980, less than 100 million acres remained, of which about 400,000 are drained each year.

In the 1930's the effects of this condition were became eerily apparent to the keen eyes of duck hunters who noticed a significant drop in duck populations. It was through a group of concerned outdoorsmen that Ducks Unlimited was formed.

Dubbed the More Game Birds in America Foundation, the fledgling organization set out to recoup from the devastation of The Dust Bowl. The impact of the drought was measured through an ambitious wild duck census piloted by founder Joseph Palmer Knapp.

The aerial sweep of nearly 14,000 miles proved not only to confirm the critical plight of the waterfowl with the devastation of their breeding grounds, but to guide the organization to its singleness of purpose.

A new photography exhibit by Nancy Lensen-Tomasson, associate professor of the department of photography and film at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, is on display at the College of Lake County's Community Gallery of Art.

The exhibit, which follows the roles and contributions of women of three tribal groups from the Ivory Coast of Africa, will be shown at the CLC gallery through July 3.

The photographs taken by Tomasson grab ahold of women's maternal, communal, creative and spiritual contributions.

The photographer has compiled this collection by observing the women and recording daily moments of their lives.

Tomasson relates that these moments represent reproduction, child nurturing, cooking and feeding.

The photos include ones of women working in the fields, weaving baskets from coconut palm leaves, selling in city markets and making pottery that characterizes the African's traditional village life.

The exhibit hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday through June 7 and to 9:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, from June 10-July 3.

For more information, call Steve Jones, curator, at (708)223-6601, ext. 240.

Thillen invests in Fox Lake's future

Interviews

About six years ago, Denyse Thillen, recently widowed, was set on moving out of Chicago. She was deciding between moving to Florida or moving to a home in Fox Lake, that had been in her family since 1935.

When Denyse read an article about former Fox Lake Mayor Bill Dam, the scales tipped in favor of Fox Lake. "I liked what I read," said Denyse. In the article, Dam spoke about boosting Fox Lake's reputation as a nice community to live in, rather than just a nice place for boaters to visit.

Since moving to Fox Lake, Denyse has been one of the many active community members who has worked to make Fox Lake a nice place to live. Denyse is a member of the Zoning Board and is the fundraising chair for the Fox Lake Community Center.

"I have an investment in this town," said Denyse. "I don't think you have a right to complain unless you do get involved."

Denyse first became involved at village hall in 1987 when she got a job doing clerical work for the village. Before long, she was asked to serve as secretary for the zoning board. "I said I would do it until they found somebody else, but as secretary I got involved in what was going on." When a vacancy opened on the board, Denyse was asked to fill it.

As fundraising chair on the volunteer board at the Fox Lake Community Center, Denyse aims to raise money for repairs and extras at the center. The campaign goes beyond raising funds, however. By selling window stickers "Support the businesses that support you" it also aims to bring the people of Fox Lake and the businesses a little closer.

Denyse and her husband, Jim, are local business people, themselves, as owners of ELBT Construction and Fleet Service.

Denyse sees Fox Lake as at a turning point in time, and she wants to be one of the people who turns it in the right direction. In the midst of winter, does she ever wish she had opted for Florida? "I've never regretted moving here," said Denyse. by CLAUDIA M. LENART

One person's weed another's flower

There's been a bumper crop of dandelions this season. Each year they seem to multiply in our yard. During spring the lawn becomes covered with small yellow flowers that later turn into soft cotton balls full of seeds ready to fly.

I often feel embarrassed by them... I look over at the neighbors' lush green weedless yards and find myself excusing our lack of enthusiasm and time at fighting these unsightly weeds.

The lot next to our home is owned by the city. The city always keeps it nicely mowed, but Weed 'N Feed is not in their budget. I know this is where our weed problems stems from.

About three weeks ago, my preschool son came home with his first Mother's Day gift for me. It was a folder made of red stapled construction paper with, "Happy Mother's Day 1991", written on the front. Inside, on one side he drew what was his artistic interpretation of me. On the other side, was a preprinted paragraph with blanks to fill in. It was entitled, "My Mother."

The piece started with the basics. "My mother has brown hair. She has brown eyes. My mother is four years old....". The teacher read it to my son and he gave his own responses as she wrote it in the blanks.

One sentence in particular caught my eye... "My mother's favorite flowers are dandelions." All the while these weeds were unnerving me, but on my son they had a different effect.

In the early spring he and his little sister would pick the yellow flowers - finding the and brightest - and bring them back to me in bundles after playing outside. I always had a juice cup full of dandelions in water decorating my kitchen counter.

Our front yard had tulips in the spring. Somehow my son never thought to pick these. Dandelions are safe.

On May 15, three days before Mother's Day, my husband and I gave birth to our third child - a healthy baby boy. We decided that while I was in the hospital and the kids were staying with friends, we would have the yard sprayed by a professional lawn care service.

As I sat in my hospital room - admiring the new baby - I remembered the dandelions. I thought of my kids' expressions as they proudly gave me their hand-picked bouquets.

The day we came home from the hospital, I looked at the lawn. Slowly the dandelions were drying up. The grass was looking plush and a richer shade of green. I felt mixed emotions. I went in the house, put the baby in his crib and stepped into the kids' room. Their window overlooks the lot the city owns. As I went to close the blinds, I looked out and it was then that I noticed that the yellow dandelions were still thriving there. I smiled to myself. Next May, my kids could bring their baby brother and give him a lesson in life. Mothers need flowers - all kinds - just like children need hugs. —by MEL BADELL

Boston, where it all began

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Having traveled to many far away foreign cities, I felt it was time I visit the city where our own country began. The city which was home to Paul Revere, John Hancock and Samuel Adams. The city where the pilgrims landed. I finally took a trip to Boston.

I found the perfect first stop right at the airport. Take the walkway between terminal B and C to the center parking lot. Then take the elevator to the 16th floor observation tower for a birds-eye view of the city and harbor. Admission is free.

An exciting way to get to downtown Boston from the airport is by water shuttle! Look for the free bus which takes you to the dock alongside the airport. The 7-minute trip across the harbor to Rowes Wharf gives an interesting prospective of the city. Go ahead and spend the $6 a person for the ride. I'm going to show you a way to return for 60 cents.

Once at Rowes Wharf, pass up the tour buses and trolleys. This city is made for walking. Head right along the harbor to Market Street, then left to City Hall. You are now at the beginning of the "Freedom Trail".

Actually, the Freedom Trail is two separate loops. The north loop being identified by a red line and the south by a blue. I don't mean just on a map. These lines are actually painted on the sidewalks! At times, the lines become a row of red bricks inlaid in the cement. Just follow the lines and you can't get lost.

The north loop will take you past Paul Revere's house and the Old North Church. You can also see the U.S.S. Constitution from one point. This area is a charming Italian neighborhood known as the "North End".

The south loop passes a cemetery where Paul Revere, John Hancock and the real "Mother Goose" are buried. You'll see many of the original buildings where our founding fathers secretly planned the revolution.

O.K., so let's find that cheap way back to the airport. Along side the tourist information center by City Hall is the entrance to the Boston subway known as the "T". Catch the train to the airport for only 60 cents. It's comfortable, clean and very safe.

Second City has 'winner'

Critic's Choice

Second City's 74th revue is as slick as its title, "Winner Takes Oil."

Its seven-member ensemble, directed by Tom Glanas, is well-suited for the lively two-hour satiric romp that touches on everything from urban blight and violence in the city to psychic relationships.

None of the 23 skits drags. There's the expected improvisational bit, one apparent reprise from earlier programs ("Birds and the Bees") and a rousing musical focused on the environmental destruction of Planet Earth for a satisfying finale.

A lot of the punchiness, however, that infuses "Winner Takes Oil" comes from uninhibited jabs at current events, from the videoed police brutality in Los Angeles to the instant replays of events related to the Persian Gulf war.

"The Lesson" is a strong but highly amusing skit about an out-of-control professor's unusual method for drilling knowledge into his students. Brandishing an Army issue 45 pistol, the teacher insists "This is my way of funneling military spending back into education."

Two street protestors clash in a battle of wits in "Sign of the Times," another clever bit. As the scene progresses, the placards they tote become ever more nasty.

Another delightful set-piece, "She She Fou Fou," dramatizes the relationships people develop with their pets--in this case a poodle, a rabbit and "Thrill Kill" the cat.

Veteran Second City devotees will enjoy this revue, while newcomers will find much to enjoy as well. The theatre is at 1616 N. Wells St., Chicago.—by TOM WITOM

(Cont'd. from page 18) on restoring wetlands that have been damaged, said Rush, "nobody else goes out there and takes a piece of property that is no longer producing and brings it back to life. It's a unique mission."

The mission has resulted in more than $200 million raised for the salvation of about 6 million wetland acres in Canada, the U.S. and Mexico.

Initial DU efforts raised money in the United States and put it to work in Canada. In 1974, Ducks Unlimited de Mexico was opened with the purpose of protecting wintering waterfowl habitat.

DU's scope expanded to its homeland in 1985 when the organization initiated wetland projects on U.S. soil. Today, more than 1,110 projects are underway throughout the nation.

According to Rush, about 75 percent of the nation's wetlands are privately owned. Consequently, the comprehensive restoration projects attempt to enlist the support of property owners through networking and informational campaigns. Farmers are encouraged to offer testimonials of the success of techniques that improve their lands and the habitat of waterfowl.

Wetlands are not located solely in rural areas and are quite prevalent in Lake County.

"There is now a growing understanding in this area that you need to work with the wetlands," said Rush.

This understanding should escalate despite the relocation of DU headquarters from Long Grove to Memphis scheduled for the fall of 1992. The organization continues to grow and has acquired land for a larger facility in Tennessee.

With the help of high-tech satellite equipment to identify distressed wetland areas and legislation through the North American Waterfowl Management Plan, DU's mission continues to fly.

Now over 500,000 strong, new members are always encouraged. For information about becoming a DU member call or write Ducks Unlimited, One Waterfowl Way, Long Grove, Ill., 60047; (708) 438-4300.

Murray, Dreyfuss foils in 'What About Bob?'

In "What About Bob?" one of our favorite actors Richard Dreyfuss, no stranger to comedy, and one of our favorite comedians, Bill Murray are teamed.

The mixture produces strange bedfellows of comedic technique with Murray's slapstick balanced by Dreyfuss' underslung, but perfect timing.

This flick somehow misses its target, but the plot about a very psychotic patient attaching himself to a stuffy, world-famous psychiatrist and his family with some very funny results, is bound to provide, not only some chuckles, but a few side-holders as well.

Murray is allowed to run the gamut of his funnyman talent in this one and Dreyfuss supplies a not-so straight man with alacrity.

An extra added attraction comes along in the character of Charlie Korsmo who plays a black clad kid all wound up in death thoughts.

Murray's carrying around his pet goldfish in a jar around his neck is another funny bit of "schtick."

We give this flick 3.5 stars out of five on the basis of "what it might have been," handled differently.

Tom and Kris Kastle, known as Privateer, Chicago area folk singers, will be appearing at the Ill. Railway Museum's Festival of Songs and Stories in Union, Ill. on June 8 and 9. Richmond's Jim May will take part in the storytelling. The restored Chicago/Milwaukee Electroliner can be toured during fest.

Railway museum sets story fest

The Illinois Railway Museum in Union (McHenry County), will hold its fourth Annual Railroad Festival of Songs and Stories at the museum grounds on Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9.

According to Dan Keding, the artistic director of the 1991 show, more than 15 nationally-known folksingers and storytellers will be appearing on this year's program. The featured storyteller will be Elizabeth Ellis of Dallas, Texas, and a special guest will be Larry Penn of Milwaukee.

Penn, an internationally-recognized singer of labor-oriented folk music, is returning this year for an encore performance of music and "hobo art." Penn illustrates hobo graffiti with chalk sketches applied to actual box car sides, as he explains how the 'bo's art served as a bulletin board where they exchanged news.

Chicagoland storytelling favorites Jim May, Nancy Donoval, and Janice Del Negro will be joined by Chicago area folk singers Chris and Tom Kastle, performing as "Privateer." The Kastles have performed throughout North America and Europe, and have appeared locally at the Chicago Maritime Festival, the WFMT Folk Festival, and the Fox Valley Festival.

May is the founder of the Spring Grove Storytelling Festival and Donoval is the founder of the Wild Onion Storytelling Festival. Del Negro is the assistant director of Children's Services for the Chicago Public Library.

Other performers on the program will include storytellers Dan Keding, and Michael Cotter and folk singers Dave Williams, Mike Anderson, Larry Swenson, Dick Ogden, Julie Luther, Wil Brenner, Bob Bovee, and Gail Heil.

The festival has been expanded to a two-day event this year. Daily admission to the festival is $8 for adults and $6 for senior citizens or children ages five to 11. The museum opens at 10 a.m. with the concerts running from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Admission includes access to the museum's 56-acre grounds, five exhibition buildings, and unlimited rides on the antique streetcars and passenger trains.

Admission to the Saturday evening Ghost Story Concert, which includes a ride on the "Ghost Train" is $5 for all ages after 6 p.m. The Illinois Railway Museum is located in rural McHenry County, about four-and-one-half miles northwest of Marengo (U.S. 20) exit on the Northwest Tollway (I-90), 35 miles west of O'Hare Airport.

Stage Two sets 1-acts July 11-28

The Stage Two professional theater group will present a One-Act festival July 11-28.

The show will play at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and at 3 p.m. on Sunday.

The Stage Two Theatre is at 11 N. Genesee St., Waukegan. The entrance to the theater from the free city parking lot off of Sheridan Rd. is between Washington St. and Madison Ave.

The audience is invited to meet a cold man from Minnesota, an actress with a special cat, your favorite superhero, a mysterious murderer, a man coming to grips with reality, the McDonald's bag lady and more in this summertime assortment that cycles from comedy, to mystery, to drama, to comedy.

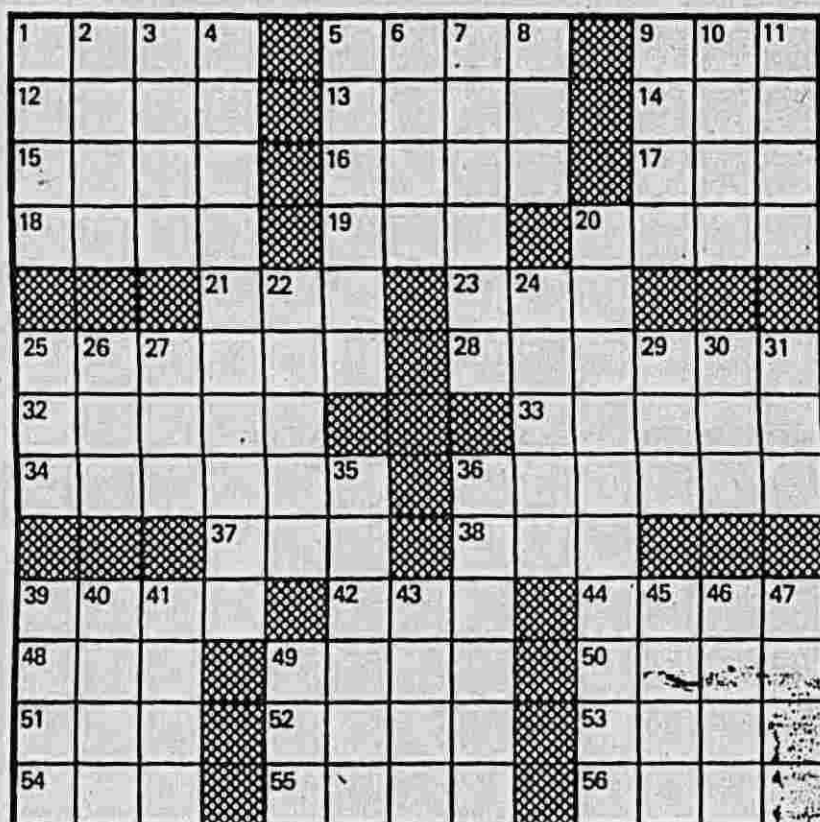

On Thursdays you "pay what you want" for tickets. Friday and Saturday, tickets are $9, $7 on Sunday. Senior and student tickets are $6.

For reservations, call (708)662-7088.

Warm potato salad with fried potato skins

There are lots of versions of warm potato salad, but this one has a new twist for Americans who love potato skins.

8 medium size boiling potatoes

12 slices bacon

1 medium size red onion, chopped

1/4 cup wine vinegar

1/4 cup olive oil

1 heaping Tablespoon Dijon-style mustard

salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste

1 cup chopped fresh parsley

2 Tbl. chopped fresh tarragon

1 egg, beaten

oil for deep frying

Scrub 3 of the potatoes under running water to remove any dirt. Peel the 3 potatoes with a paring knife in wide strips, taking about 1/8 inch of the potato flesh along with the peel. Cover the potato peels with water and set aside. Peel the remaining potatoes in the regular manner with the potato peeler and discard the peels.

Drop all of the potatoes in cold water to cover in a large pan and cook until tender but still firm, about 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, chop the bacon and fry in a medium size skillet until crisp. Drain. Add the onion to the hot bacon fat and saute until limp. Remove from heat and whisk in the vinegar, olive oil, mustard and salt and pepper to taste. When the potatoes in a large bowl and pour the bacon fat dressing over the top. Add the parsley and tarragon and gently toss to combine. Taste and adjust seasonings, fold in the bacon.

Cut the reserved potato skins into one-inch squares and toss with beaten egg. Heat oil in a deep-fat fryer to 375 degrees. Add the potato skins, shaking the basket to separate the peels, and fry until crisp and browned, 5 to 7 minutes.

Place the warm potato salad in a serving bowl and sprinkle with the fried potato skins. Serve warm.

Makes 8 servings.

Layered spinach salad

Very tasty and pretty, another beauty that can be made ahead.

1 lb. fresh spinach, torn into bite-size pieces

2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

5 green onions, sliced

10 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled

1 (10 oz.) package frozen green peas, thawed

1 (8 oz.) carton sour cream

1 cup mayonnaise

1/4 tsp. lemon-pepper seasoning

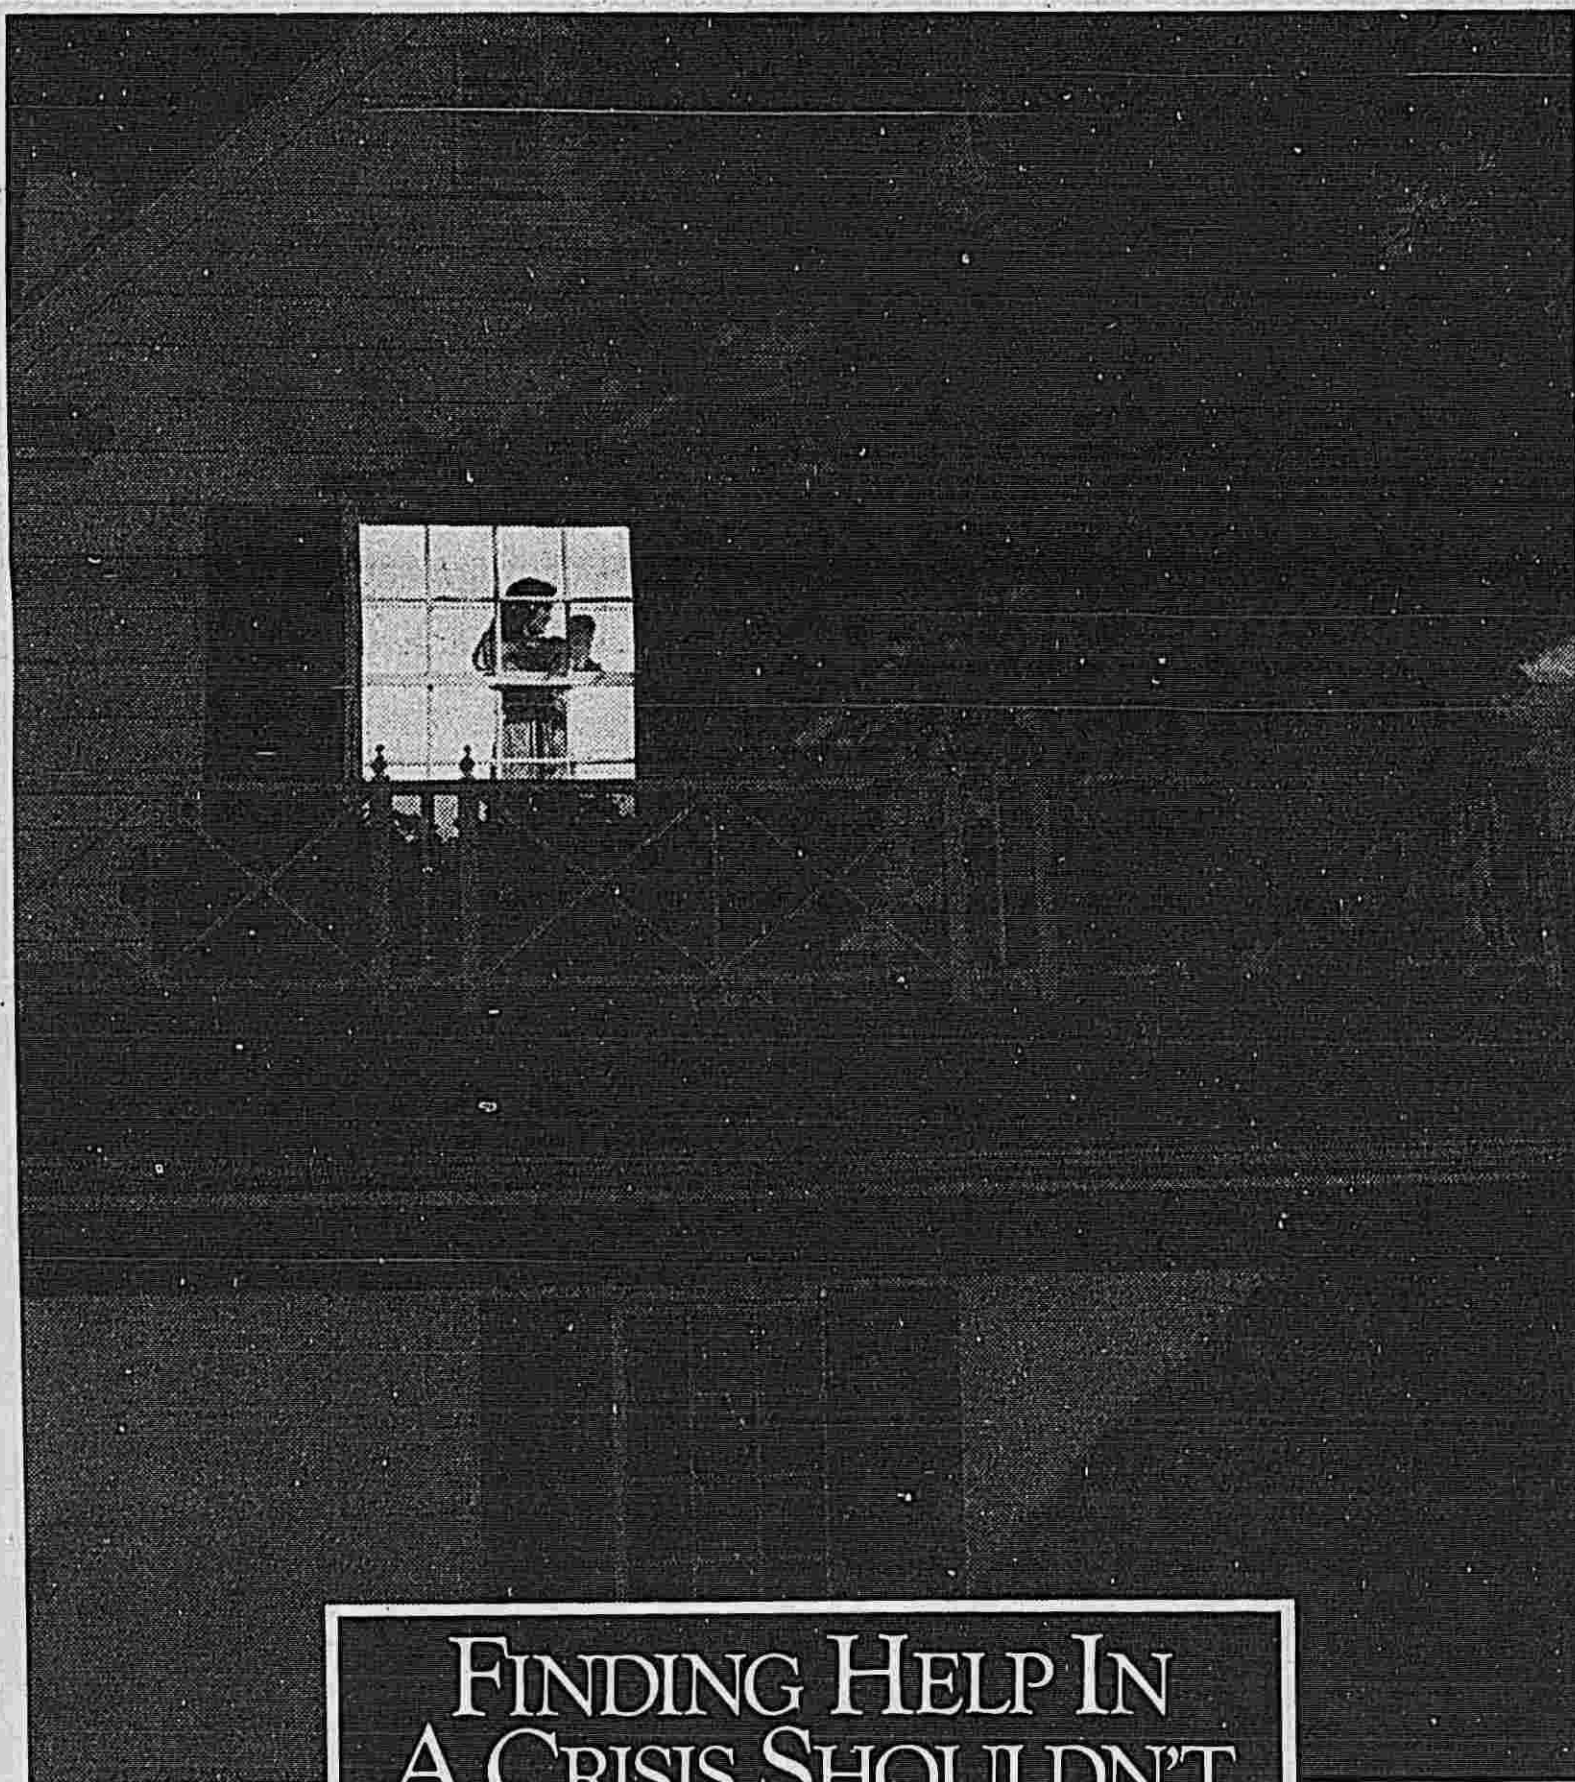

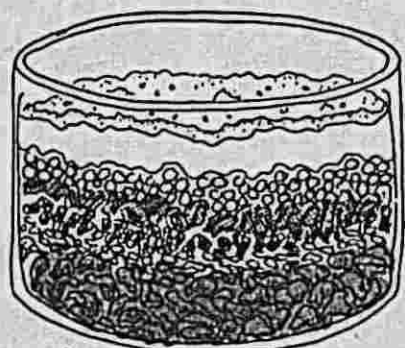

1/8 tsp. garlic powder

1/2 cup freshly grated Romano cheese

Layer spinach, eggs, green onions, bacon and peas in a large deep bowl.

Combine sour cream and next three ingredients, stirring well; spoon evenly over peas, sealing to edge of bowl. Sprinkle with Romano cheese. Cover tightly, and chill 8 hours. Toss gently before serving, if desired.

Makes 8 servings.

Yes - this time, it's Libertyville

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The Libertyville Wildcats girls soccer team was more or less lined up in a row, waiting for the presentation of the big trophy sitting on the table at midfield at Naperville Central High School.

"1991 Girls state champions," Coach Andy Bitta told his high-fiving crew. Yes, after two close calls, second place-finishes in a row, it was time for the Wildcats to take center stage.

But it was not an easy title game for the Wildcats, who finished the season with a 25-1-1 record.

They were some of the toughest shots a soccer goalie would ever have to face.

Some were head-on, others off corner kicks. Whatever, Libertyville goalkeeper Caroline Cerbus was certainly tested in the third quarter of the Class AA state championship against Waubonsie Valley Saturday night.

And she stopped all of them and now it was time for Cerbus to accept hugs and congratulations from her teammates as Libertyville made a second-quarter score from Sarah Morrison stand up for a 1-0 state title win.

"I wanted to keep it alive. There was no doubt about keeping the shots out," Cerbus said.

"We had our chances, quite a few, but their goalie made some great saves. That was a great game of soccer," Waubonsie Valley Coach Judy Keller said.

As it had for the last four games, defense was the Wildcats trademark in the win. "Our defense was the big reason for the shutout. They gave 110 percent," Cerbus, a senior, said.

"There is no better feeling," Bitta said. Bitta, who has been at Libertyville 11 seasons now, said that includes his role as an assistant coach when Libertyville finished fourth in Class AA basketball in March.

Allison Marquardt, a senior, was injured in the second game of the state tournament against Carmel, started for the Wildcats. There were other starters fighting off injuries as well and Morrison was injured after scoring the goal, but later returned.

"The bench did a great job. Our experience helped a lot," Bitta said.

Morrison's goal came on a direct kick at the 16:26 mark of the second quarter. The kick sailed high and over the fingertips of Waubonsie Valley goalkeeper Ellen Husarik. The shot was only the second of the game for Libertyville, who had 14.

Soccer, basketball little 'Bitta' heaven

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

For Andy Bitta, it's better to have loved basketball and won at soccer than not to have loved at all.

After two straight years as the bridesmaids, the Bitta-coached Libertyville girls finally caught the bouquet and the state soccer title last weekend.

"It's a dream come true this year," Bitta said. "When we lost some key players, the team rallied around them, fought harder and became even more focused. They showed what hard work and dedication can do."

Although he's only 36, Bitta is the father of Libertyville High School soccer. He's been the head of both the boys team (for 13 years) and the girls squad (11 seasons) since their inception.

Bitta has seen both programs prosper. The girls made it the final eight in the state in 1988 and were the state runnersup in '89 and '90. The boys were second in the state in '86 and made it to the Sweet 16 in 1989.

Before soccer, however, there was another demanding mistress.

"Basketball was my first love," Bitta said.

That infatuation led Bitta to try his luck as a basketball walk-on at Western Illinois. He'd played basketball and baseball and run track during his prep days at Prospect High School.

At 5-foot-11, Bitta was good enough to make the Western squad at point guard but was relegated to reserve status. He recalled averaging 10 points and four assists on the JV team.

"There were a lot of good players there — I was just happy to be on the team."

Then, a series of ankle injuries and a new head coach spelled an end to Bitta's collegiate cage career.

Some painful withdrawal symptoms told Bitta he was addicted to sports. He changed his major from political science to education.

"I missed being in athletics so much that I knew I wanted to be a coach," Bitta said.

He'd always had an affinity toward soccer.

"I always had a very big interest in soccer. I enjoyed watching it on TV and playing it in grade school. If they'd have had soccer when I was in high school, I definitely would have played it."

After returning to his high school alma mater to teach and coach for one year, Bitta joined the staff at Libertyville. Along the way, he's earned a master's degree from National Lewis University.

Don't shed a tear for Bitta's lost love. In addition to his head-coaching duties in soccer, he's the assistant varsity coach in the Wildcats' extremely successful boys basketball program.

"I enjoy both very much," Bitta said. "It would be hard to make a choice between the two, if I had to. It's tough now with three sports (seasons), but I like being around young people, I like setting up game plans and I enjoy trying to win."

Good soccer is played according to a game plan that's good on or off the pitch, Bitta said.

"I think the thing I like about it so much is that it teaches discipline. You've got to really work at it — it doesn't come over night. It takes teamwork to reach a goal — like it always does throughout life."

This may be a country of throwers, but Bitta said his kids get a kick out of life.

"The kids I get should be growing up in Europe. They're die-hard soccer people. That's why they're so good."

Husek, Jessee garner Augustana accolades

Two former Lake Zurich High School standouts won post-season honors at Augustana College.

Volleyball player Heather Husek and basketball player Tom Jessee won varsity "A" blanket awards during the school's annual awards dinner.

Heather Husek

In order to receive a varsity "A" letter blanket at Augustana, the highest honor bestowed upon the school's athletes, the individual must participate in a single sport for four years and must earn at least three varsity letters.

Husek, a 1987 graduate of Lake Zurich, earned four letters in volleyball, where she was a middle hitter. A team captain as a senior, Husek played in 35 matches last year and led the team in kills per game with 2.2 and in digs with 149. She also had 68 total blocks and recorded 22 service aces.

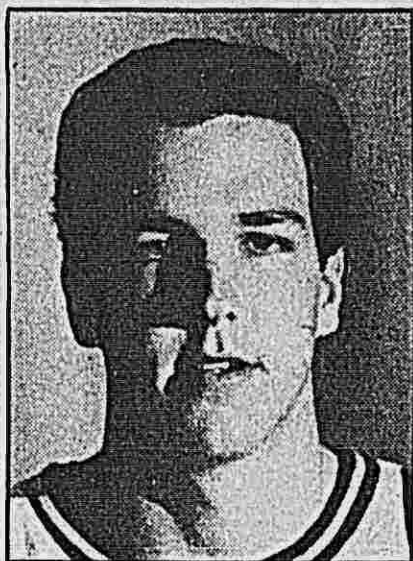

Jessee, also a 1987 graduate of Lake Zurich, was a four-year letter winner as a member of the Vikings basketball team.

A center, he enjoyed his best year during his senior season when he did much of his work inside the paint. He was fourth on the team in rebounds with a 4.7 average despite only starting five games. He averaged 5.1 points per game and had 36 assists, 27 steals and eight blocked shots.

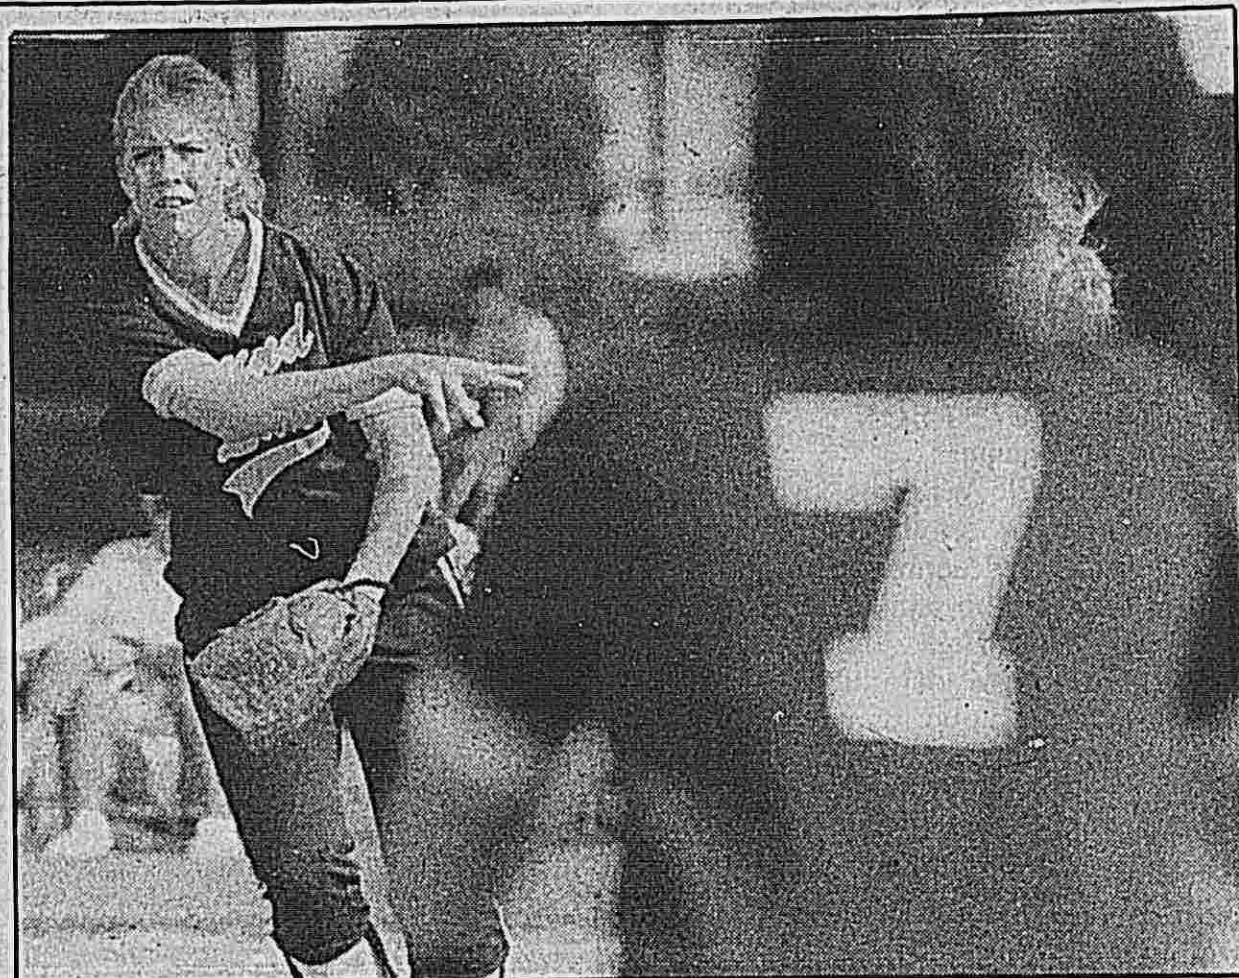

As one of five seniors on the team, he was partly responsible for the resurgence of Viking basketball as Augustana finished 19-7 and a 13-3 mark, good for second in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin. Former Augustana player and team captain Steve Yount was in his first year at the helm. Augustana was 7-19 the year before.

Diane Schumacher, director of women's intercollegiate athletics, and John Farwell, director of men's intercollegiate athletics, presided over the ceremonies.

Van Meter, Panthers stand tall in sectional

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

She is known to her Round Lake softball teammates and fans as "Shorty."

Yet, on this Saturday afternoon of a new month, Elaine Van Meter never stood taller in the hearts of the Round Lake faithful.

After a strikeout and two groundouts, the senior had a moment to shine as she singled home the game-winning runs as Round Lake stunned Mundelein 5-4 in Prospect sectional action.

"I was just trying to hit it. Everyone was talking to me and giving me confidence," Van Meter, a senior, said.

The Panthers made the Sweet Sixteen of Class AA softball by knocking off the highly favored North Suburban Conference champs. The Mustangs were in firm control for six innings, but because of the Round Lake miracle, the 24-8 team had its season ended. The 5-4 win represented some lucky numbers in another way, as it was Coach Howard Schroeder's 54th birthday.

"I brought the kids over and reminded them that against Grant last year, we were down 4-1 in the regional in the seventh inning and came back to win. It was a tremendous birthday present," Schroeder said.

Van Meter, the Panthers top pitcher, emerged as the victor in this surprise win, improving her record to 13-8. The Panthers, 16-10 overall, had not won the conference title (Marengo did), and were not expected to win the Grant regional (they were seeded fourth, and beat the first seed Antioch and the second seed Zion-Benton).

The seventh inning started with a simple ground ball Mundelein pitcher Heidi Miller cleanly fields probably 99 times out of 100. But this time, she couldn't and Karensa Johnson reached base.

Laurie Scripture then drew a walk and Jenny Denecke singled against the rattled MHS star. That brought home Scripture, as a wild pitch was thrown in also.

Miller retired the next two batters and the Mustangs were one out away from another trip to the sectional final.

But Michelle Olson, who usually does not bat, drew a key walk to keep the inning alive. Olson, a junior, does not mind usually being designated hit for. "I can concentrate more on defense that way," Olson said.

"Michelle usually does not bat, but we hit at 7:15 a.m. today and we decided to let her hit," Schroeder said.

Amy Drinan then delivered a game-tying single, scoring Scripture and Denecke. Jenny Barnett drew the third walk of the inning before Van Meter's heroics.

Before the single, Miller was the story of this game. Mundelein was hoping to win a sectional at the same Mt. Prospect field it had in 1989 when the Mustangs advanced to Pekin.

Miller had a four-for-four day at the plate to lead the MHS offense.

Mundelein took a 3-0 lead in the first two innings. Singles by Terilyn Starkey, Sharon DeHart, Miller, a walk and a fielder's choice accounted for two runs in the first. Another run was added in the second on three singles.

Mundelein increased the lead to 4-1 in the fourth and seemingly had the game in control. That was until a certain Round Lake pitcher, short in size but big in heart, stepped to the plate on this day of miracles.

Miracles stop for Panthers

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

There is a reason they are called miracles.

For if they weren't miracles, we'd come to expect them, day in and day out. And in the final analysis, the softball season for the Round Lake Panthers ended Monday because the team ran out of miracles.

"I thought it would take four or five runs to beat them. To win 1-0 would have been a major miracle," Round Lake Coach Howard Schroeder said.

The Panthers, then, have to be satisfied with a miracle-type upset against Mundelein two days earlier as the season highlight. Round Lake, 16-11, upset the Mustangs 5-4 before being eliminated by Lake Forest 4-1.

Round Lake, behind pitcher Elaine Van Meter, dominated early in the game as Van Meter retired the first eight Scouts and the Panther faithful were hoping the 1-0 lead would be enough for a trip to the state finals in Pekin.

Lake Forest pitcher Kelly Beckwith earned her 20th win of the season by teasing Round Lake - the Panthers had runners on base in six innings, until she performed her best in Round Lake's here-to-fore "miracle inning", the seventh.

Round Lake was trying to become the second straight Northwest Suburban Conference team to advance to the Elite Eight - Lake Zurich made it last year. If the Panthers had pulled it off, it would have been a "threepeat" for area teams making the coveted trip to the Peoria area.

"Our pitching was OK and our defense was decent, but we did not get the base hit when we needed it," Schroeder said. The Panthers had 11 in the left-on-base ledger.

Round Lake drew first blood in the opening inning as Amy Drinan walked, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on a fielder's choice.

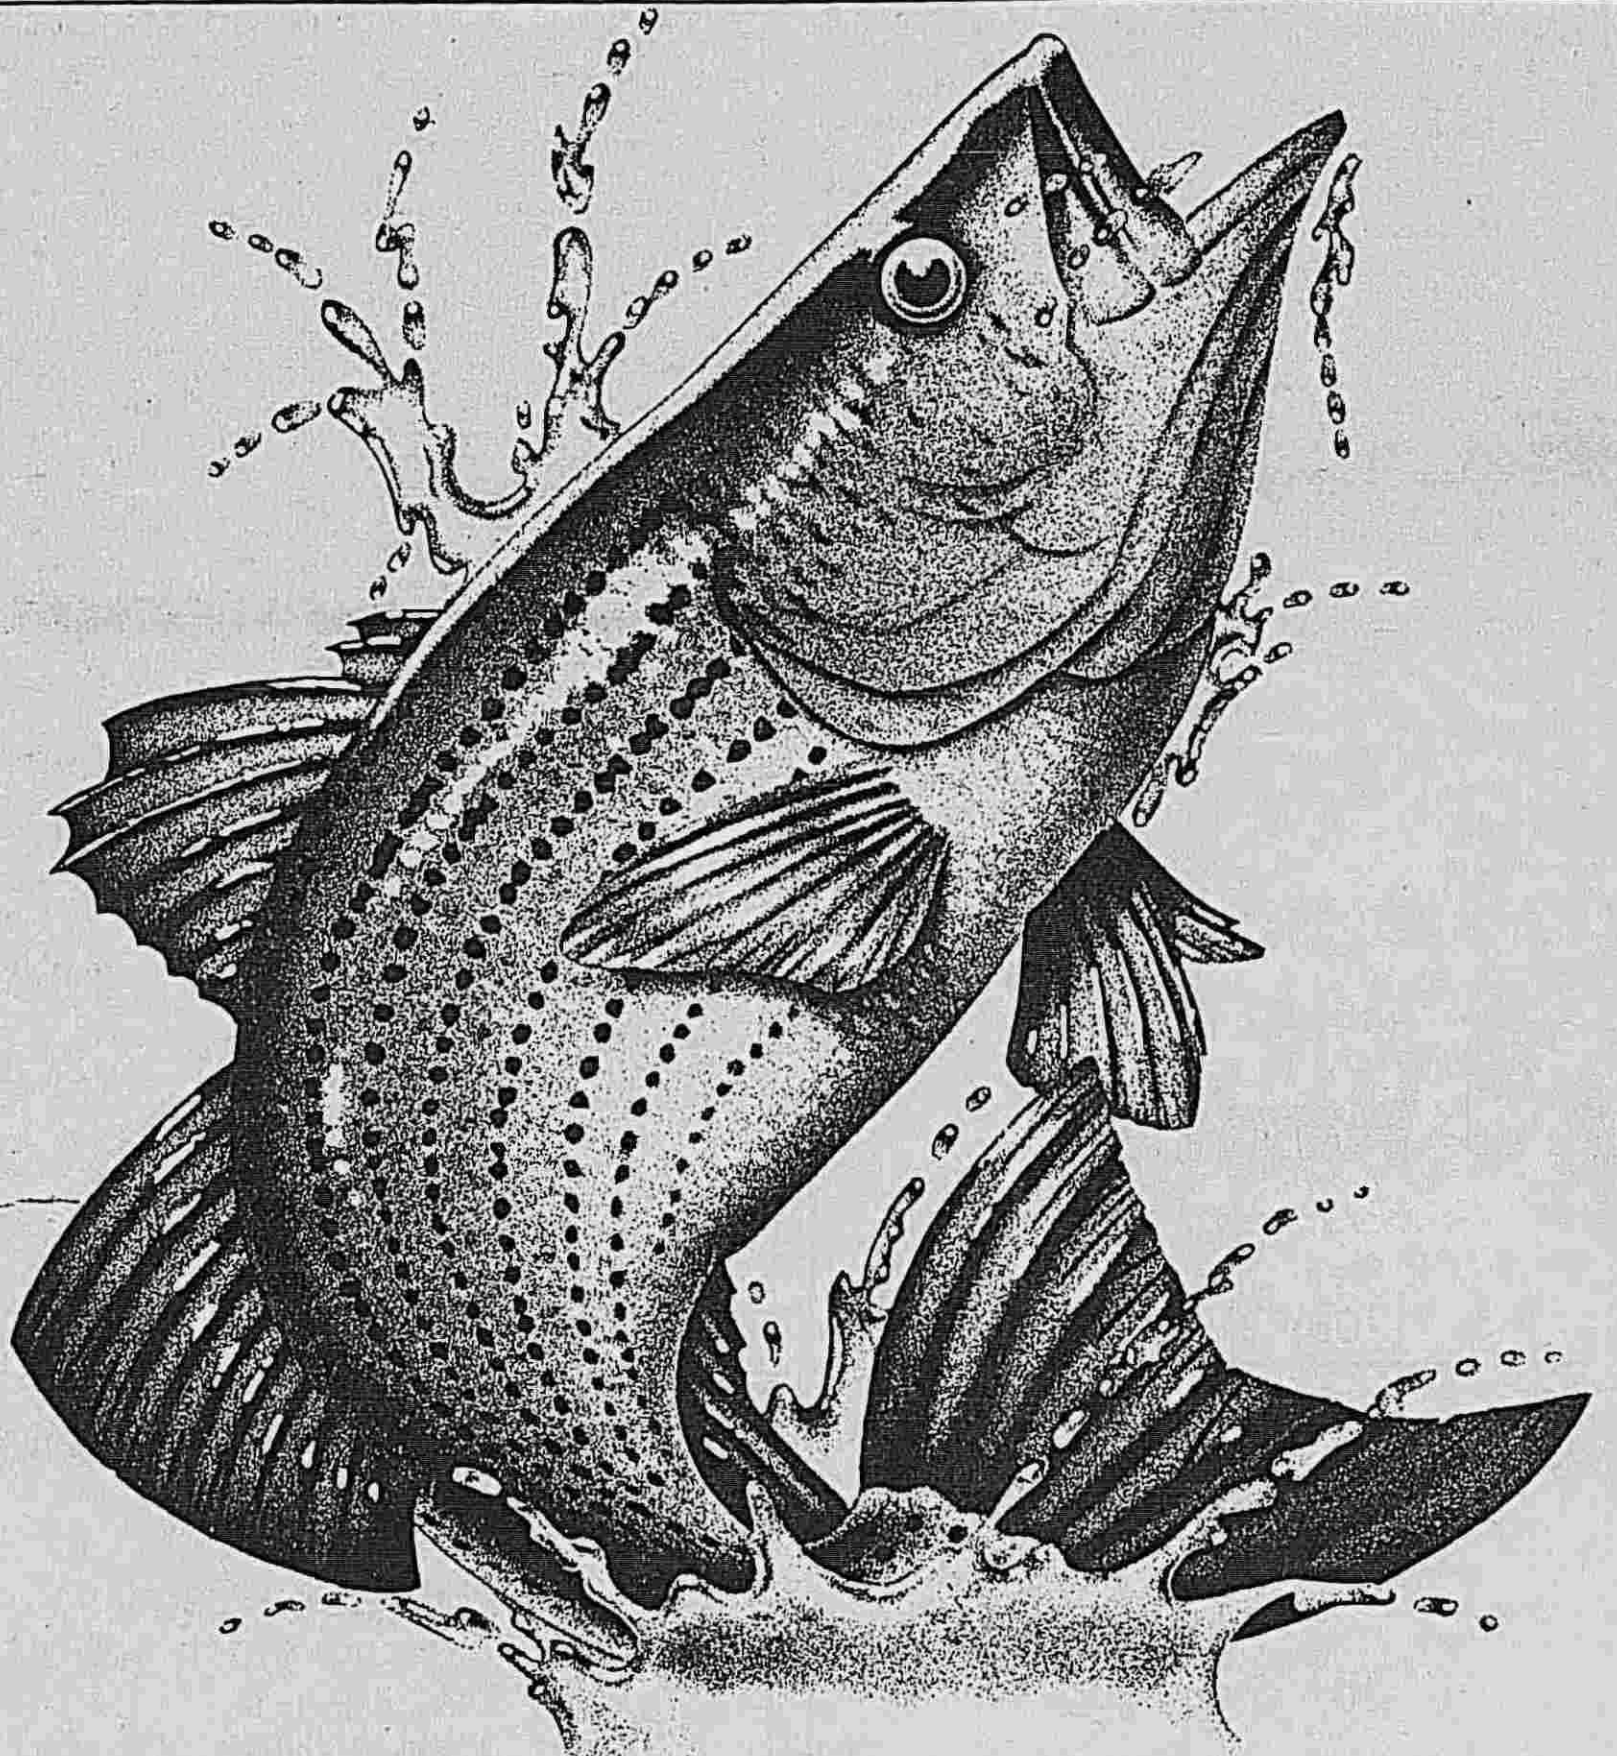

Round Lake had a chance to take command in the third but let it slip away. Karensa Johnson singled, Laurie Scripture walked and Kelly Wincinski walked after a second out to load the bases. Lake Forest Coach Sue Trusty called an on-mound huddle and the Scouts responded. Beckwith got Karen Foster to pop out to shortstop.

Round Lake had a defensive lapse in the fourth inning and that was enough for Lake Forest to punch home four runs.

Amy Sowka singled, was sacrificed to second, and Janet Woodruff walked. Julie Avria then tripled to right, for a 2-1 lead. Jennifer Anderson and Amanda Coggin singled and an error on the Round Lake third baseman allowed the other two runs to score.

Obviously lifted, the 23-6 Scouts then turned in some gems on defense. The Round Lake fifth saw shortstop Anderson make two outstanding diving plays. "Their shortstop made some tremendous diving plays in that clutch inning," Schroeder said.

A Fish Story. Honest.

If you're interested in knowing where the biggest hybrid striped bass on record in Illinois came from, well, all 17 lbs., 5.2 oz. of it came from Heidecke Lake, just southeast of Morris.

Maybe even more interesting is that Heidecke Lake came from Commonwealth Edison. Thirteen years ago, it was created as a cooling lake for our Collins Generating Station. And since then, it's made for a lot of eager fishermen, and more than a few big fish.

Heidecke Lake is just one of the many recreational areas that we've helped provide for the people of northern Illinois. Recreational areas that last year alone drew over 800,000 visitors interested in everything from fishing and boating to bicycling and fossil hunting.

For more information on where to go for what this summer, call your local Commonwealth Edison office. They can even give you some suggestions for next winter. But, then, that's another story.

Lions Club offers camps for impaired youngsters

"The experience of a lifetime with lifelong benefits to the child". That is how observers have described Camp Lions, a unique camping experience for children between the ages of eight and 16 with severe vision or hearing impairments.

"In Illinois, Lions for years sponsored summer camping experiences for blind, visually impaired, deaf and hearing impaired children in a safe, yet challenging setting," Carroll Flood, president of the Gagewood Lioness Club.

The camp program, will be held at held at Camp Lions "Ravenswood" at Hastings Lake in Lake Villa along with Camp Lions "Little Giant" in Carbondale. The "Little Giant" camp tends to be more nature oriented, while "Ravenswood" relies more on camping activities. Both camps, however, depend on specially planned activities to the impairments of the campers.

For more information on the Lake Villa camp, call Flood at (708) 223-4186.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe—from sink to sewer/septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new...and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquify even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, PlumbClean is money-back guaranteed!

Save Money. a 1 lb. container of PlumbClean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

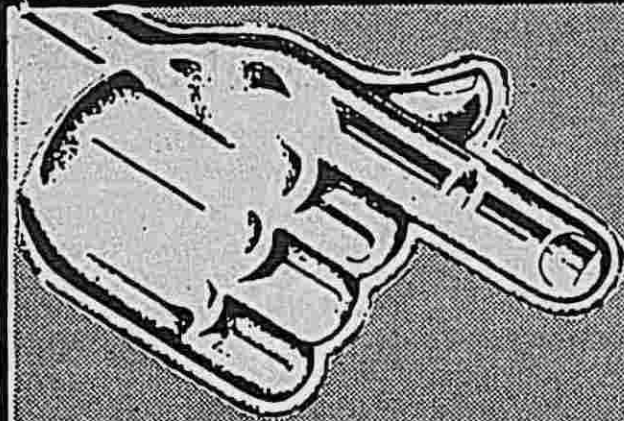

Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors. In some situations, some may damage you fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your pipes are signalling you, get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Lake County speaks out for disabilities

Lake County's federal and state legislators and other public officials including Lake County Board members, Lake County Board of health members and township supervisors have been asked to attend "Lake County Speaks Out for Disabilities." This event is sponsored by a growing number of organizations around the county made up of persons with disabilities and their advocates.

All Lake County residents with disabilities, their families and other advocates are encouraged to attend. The event will be from 2:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M. on Sunday, June 9, on the grounds of the Lambs Farm (Junction of I-94 and Route 176). Participants will have an opportunity to talk with lake County legislators about basic needs of persons with disabilities and their families, the impact of proposed budget cuts on individuals and families, and will provide convincing evidence that there is wide community support for people with disabilities in Lake County. Legislators will address these issues in a group setting and all public officials will have time to meet and talk informally with persons attending.

The growing list of sponsors includes: Alliance for the Mentally Ill/Lake County Chapter, Down's Development Counsel of Lake County, Epilepsy Services of Northeastern Illinois, Friends of Countryside, Grove School Parent Citizens for the Developmentally Disabled, Laramont/Satellite PTF, Mt. St. Joseph Association, Relatives and Friends of Riverside Foundation, and Voice of the Retarded.

Individuals needing more information and advocacy groups who would like to be involved may contact the AB/C Council at (708)360-6704.
